THE NATIONAL CONVENTION.

Vice Presidency Still in Doubt—Ben. Wade Still the Leading Man—The Pennsylvania Delegation Will Vote for Curtain Until Withdrawn—Pressure for Fenton.

[Special Dispatch to the Pittsburgh Gazette.

CHICAGO, May 19, 1868.

Another day of political intrigue has failed to settle positively who is to go on the ticket with General Grant, but all still points to Ben. Wade as the coming man. It is generally conceded he will lead all others on the first ballot, and he has developed strength in every State where they have candidates of their own. All attempts to unite New England on any one man have failed, and they will undoubtedly scatter in four or five different directions and fail to get anything. Maine insists upon Hamlin and Massachusetts upon Wilson, Vermont on Poland, and New Hampshire looks on White, but squinting to Wade. Buckingham has withdrawn and Connecticut will probably go for Wade. They want Gen. Hawley for permanent presiding officer. New Jersey divides between Wade and Colfax.

BUYING VOTES.

The New York delegation with the Albany lobby are here in full force, and are very clamorous for Fenton, and being flush with money, are throwing it around loose, and are especially after the Southern delegations, who warm up to them in quite a mysterious manner, that indicates business. Not one of these delegations are full, and substitutes are being put in from among those who have been seen by the Fenton men. Out of all the Northern delegations they have not yet picked up a dozen men. What they have secured from the Southern States it is impossible to tell. One week ago they were nearly unanimous for Wade, and most of them still profess to be so. There are five colored delegates here, and as the President is still unimpeached, and consequently these States still out and likely to be out if he can hold one-third of the Senate, they may not be admitted. Seats, however, have been prepared for them in the Opera House as though they were all right and tickets have been issued to them. They promise all the candidates' friends to vote for them if they get in—in order to secure seats.

MEETING OF THE PENNSYLVANIANS.

The Pennsylvania delegation met this morning and elected Col. John W. Forney Chairman, without any contest. Col. A. K. McClure was admitted as a substitute vice General Henry White, who has not come, and Col. Quay as substitute vice one of the delegates who did not attend.

Mr. Cessna then moved that the Chairman of the delegation be directed to cast the vote of the State as a unit on all questions when a majority of delegates so direct. This was vigorously opposed by Messrs. Purviance, Dimmick, Moorhead, Houston, and Hoyt, who denied the right of the majority to disfranchise the minority.

Mr. J. S. Futhey offered an amendment to allow, after Curtin is withdrawn, any delegate to vote as he desires, and to have his vote so announced by the Chairman. This was voted down and Cessna's resolu was then adopted by a vote of thirty-eight to fourteen—the minority being for Wade and against Curtin.

But two will probably vote for Wade on the first ballot, after which, probably, nearly the whole delegation will go for him. One of the Erie county delegates talks Fenton, but the others are generally for Wade. They will not, however, vote for any second choice until after Curtin is withdrawn from the Convention. Col. Forney has designated Thomas E. Cochrane on the Committee on Resolutions, and A. K. McClure on Permanent Organization.

NEW YORK ORGANIZATION.

The New York delegation elected Gen. Sickles chairman, and designated Horace Greeley for the National Committee, and recommending Chauncey Depew for Vice President of the Convention, and Joseph L. Caldwell for Secretary, C. M. Andrews on Resolutions.

LATEST.

Delegations Caucussing—No Nomination for Vice President Expected Till Thursday—Wade Still Strongest.

11:30 P. M.—Nearly every delegation has had a caucus to-night, and the question of the Vice Presidency is as far off as it was last night, and will remain so until to-morrow night, as it is now conceded that there will be no nomination made before Thursday, but probably an informal ballot to-morrow before adjournment, which will tend to develope the strength of the various men.

To-night, of those who are open, Wade has more than double any other candinate, and next to him comes Fenton, then Colfax, Wilson and Hamlin.

Iowa has to-night concluded to vote first for Harlan. Illinois has a majority for Wade, and some for Hamlin, and will probably vote as a unit. The Colfax men from Indiana are considerably disappointed and many are for him only in form. Missouri is for Wade. The Pacific States have not had any formal ballot.

Thurlow Weed is engineering Wilson, and in that interest more was made to induce all the New England delegates to cast their second vote for that New England candidate, who led on first. Three still are ready to accede to this, but Connecticut puts a veto on it promptly, and all is still at sea. Connecticut has chosen Mr. Hawley as Chairman; on Credentials, A. G. Coe; on Permanent Organization, A. H. Byington; Vice President, Gen. W. S. Pierson; Secretary, B. Bent, Jr.; Resolutions, J. R. Hawley; National Committee, H. H. Starkweather.

General Carl Schurz will be temporary Chairman, and either Hawley or Sickles permanent President. New York is not very earnest for Sickles, which gives Hawley the inside track.

BOYS IN BLUE.

National Convention of Soldiers and Sailors---Unbounded Enthusiasm for Grant for President---Recreant Senators Denounced in Unmeasured Terms ---Gen. Grant's Father Called to the Platform---Resolutions, &c., &c.

CHICAGO, May 19, 1868.

[Special Dispatch to the Pittsburgh Gazette.]

The Soldiers' Convention to-day was a great success. Gens. Hawley, Sickles, Logan and Cochrane made stirring and powerful addresses, and they wisely refuse to do more than proclaim for Grant and sustain him upon the Congressional platform, which gives general satisfaction to all concerned therein.

By Telegraph to the Pittsburgh Gazette.]

CHICAGO, May 19.—The Soldiers' and Sailors' National Convention assembled in North Clark street German Turners' Hall, to-day at 12 o'clock. The various delegations formed in line at half past 10 o'clock, on Randolph street, near the court house square, and marched to the place of meeting, preceeded by Vaas & Dean's Light Guard Band. Immediately in the rear of the band was the famous war eagle "Old Abe," which belonged to the Wisconsin delegation and was brought by them to the Convention.

As soon as the delegates were seated cheers were proposed for Gen. Logan, of Illinois, Gov. Fenton, of New York, and Gen. Grant, which were given with a will, as were "three groans for old Grimes" and others who voted against impeachment. The song beginning "Old Grimes is dead" was started and most of the delegates present joined in singing it, at the close of which the Convention was organized.

The States of Rhode Island, New York, Massachusetts, New Hampshire, Tennessee, Delaware, Connecticut, New Jersey, Louisiana, California, Georgia, Vermont, Kentucky, West Virginia, Ohio, Arkansas, Mississippi, Nebraska, Maine, Missouri, Dokata Alabama and Illinois were represented by large delegations.

At noon the Convention was called to order by Major W. S. Morse, Chairman of the Executive Committee, after which Rev. John Fellows, of Wisconsin, opened the session with prayer.

Governor Fairchilds, of Wisconsin, was unanimously chosen temporary chairman, and was conducted to his seat by a Committee of Three, appointed by the chair.

Governor Fairchilds being introduced by the chairman, was received with enthusiastic applause, and said:

Gentlemen of the Convention:—In behalf of the State of Wisconsin, whose soldiers you have honored to-day by the election of myself as your temporary Chairman, I thank you. I shall receive it as an honor to the State and to the soldiers of Wisconsin. I do not take it as personal to myself at all. I am very glad, indeed, my friends, to meet so many of the old soldiers of the Union army, and I was glad last night, in a little meeting of a few of the delegates, to know why we came here. I understand we come here representing nearly a million of loyal hearts. [Great applause.] We came here to muster in "for three years or the war." We came here to swear by the love we bore those men that we will never. [Tremendous applause.] We came here to swear by the good old flag we fought for.—[Applause.] We came here to swear by the widows and orphans of our country that we will never give up the fight until this country is reconstructed upon the basis of equality and justice to all men. Do you swear it for your comrades? [Applause.] and cheers.] No men in all this land, my friends, no one would have fought better than the soldiers did, and, as we say upon our great Wisconsin banner, it will be well with every State in the Union, if the Union soldiers will fight as they fought when the Union men of the South demanded a certain plan of reconstruction, which is plainly written in the Constitution, and the rebels of the South demanded another plan of reconstruction. I say the Union soldiers of the North, and all good friends of the Union soldiers of the North, will give the Union men of the States that plan of reconstruction they asked, and until in every section of the South, in every school district, (and I hope they will have school districts there in a few years,) in every school district of the South a Union man can stand up before God and declare his love for the Union and the flag of his country, the fight will continue, and we will be at the front.

Lieutenant Thos. C. Donelson, of Ohio; Major A. C. Tate, of New York; Captain H. H. Thomas, of Tennessee; Will A. Short, of District of Columbia; Major O. M. Wilson, of Indiana, and Lieutenant Samuel Reves, of New Jersey, were chosen temporary Secretaries of the Convention.

A Committee, consisting of Dr. J. Y. Cantwell, of Alabama; J. W. Fuller, of Arkansas; Capt. J. T. Tidball, of California; Capt. W. H. Tubbs, of Connecticut; Gen. Loveland, of Delaware; Gen. Ranbaum, of Florida; Gen. Watson, of Georgia; Gen. Kimball, of Indiana; E. W. Rice, of Iowa; J. P. Blunt, of Kansas; P. B. Harris, of Kentucky, E. P. Dowe, of Maine; Major Ben. Perley Poore, of Massachusetts; C. G. Lowdry, of Minnesota; Col. M. L. Demotte, of Missouri; Col. Geo. F. Burnham, of Maryland; Gen. Henry Baxter, of Michigan; Col. J. M. Clarrington, of Nebraska; Capt. R. H. Lee, of New Jersey; Capt. G. F. Leo, of North Carolina; Major E. W. Farr, of New Hampshire; General Pleasanton, of Ohio; York; Gen. Samuel A. Youman, of Ohio; J. H. Stewart, of Pennsylvania; B. F. Whittemore, of South Carolina; Gen. W. W. J. Smith, of Pennsylvania; Col. J. H. Lockwood, of Pennsylvania; Lieut. Col. W. W. Grant, of Vermont, and Gen. J. S. Allen, of Wisconsin, was appointed on Permanent Organization.

The following named gentlemen were appointed a Committee on Resolutions: Colonel R. M. Reynolds, of Alabama; Colonel James E. Cowen, of California; Colonel A. H. Grimshaw, of Delaware; Gen. John A. Logan, of Illinois; Gov. Wm. M. Stone, of Iowa; Col. V. H. Bristow, of Kentucky; Gen. Geo. F. Shiply, of Maine; Col. Edwin F. Stone, of Massachusetts; Col. Aiken, of Minnesota; Col. Wm. Grosvenor, of Missouri; Gen. Titus, of New Hampshire; Gen. Dennis F. Burke, of New York; Gen. F. Sawyer, of Ohio; Gen. Chas. H. Hopkins, of Rhode Island; Lieut. Col. Robert K. Smith, of Texas; W. S. McCullough, of Arkansas; Col. J. H. Lockwood, of West Virginia; Gen. Chas. Crow, of Indiana; Col. A. H. Grimshaw, of Delaware; Gen. E. M. Lee, of Connecticut; B. R. Anthony, of Kansas; Capt. E. Pinchbass, of Louisiana; Gen. H. Richardson, of Maryland; Gen. W. Stoughton, of Michigan; H. F. Fisher, of Mississippi, Capt. B. Hall, of Nebraska; W. S. Davenport, of New Jersey; J. C. Mann, of North Carolina.

Eli Burnham and Bartlett, of Chicago, were appointed official reporters for the Convention.

Pending the report of the Committees on Organization and Resolutions, Gen. Hawley, of Connecticut, was called for and made a stirring and eloquent speech. He said that though the times were somewhat dark, yet he was glad that men could be found, who would be found, who would still remain true to the Union and liberty. Those who thought that the soldier was actuated by feelings of revenge were mistaken. There never was a day, or an hour, during that long four years of war, when, if those who were trying to break up the Union had come forward and thrown down their arms, but they would have been received with open arms, and all would have been forgotten. No soldier was actuated by any other feeling than love of the Union and liberty. For men who were still actuated by hopes that at some day not far distant they could again take up arms against the Union, the soldier had no love, and would show them no political quarter. He expressed himself as happy to see the country turning towards a man for Chief Executive of the nation who had never meddled in politics, but whose firmness and common sense, as well as purity of heart and mind, eminently fitted him for the highest gift the people could bestow. General Grant is undoubtedly the people's choice, and next November will see him elected President of these United States. [Cheers.] So far as the Southern people were concerned, he would say that whenever they manifested a disposition to come back to the good old Union, and act like good citizens, he was in favor of throwing around them the protection of the Government. It made no difference whether that citizen was white or black. He was a citizen still, and he believed that if necessary two millions of Boys in Blue would come again and protect him in his rights. [Immense applause.]

General Halstead, of New Jersey, was next called upon and said that to-day is, in the political history of the country, a dark one, because of the treachery of our representatives in Congress. He was sorry to say that the American people have been stabbed in the house of their friends. On every side of him he heard curses loud and deep against that recreant Senator from Illinois. He was sorry that General Palmer, a man whom the people of Illinois were about to honor, had not been in the place of the dishonest Senator to whom he alluded. He was still in hopes of seeing the traitor Johnson impeached and consigned to that obscurity which he so greatly merited. In reference to the colored man, he would say that so long as he behaved himself, and acted like a good citizen, he was proud to call him his brother.

Major O'Connor, of Iowa, and Maj-General Daniel E. Sickles, of New York, both followed in brief but eloquent speeches, favoring the nomination of General Grant for President, and counseled the soldiers throughout the land to stand as firm by their chieftain in the coming political campaign as they stood by him during the war.

General Sickles said the Convention had assembled for the purpose of choosing a successor to the lamented Lincoln. There had been no successor to him. The office had been filled ad interim, but the people were not in favor of ad interims, and would consent to it no longer.

The Committee on Permanent Organization reported as follows:

For President—Gen. John A. Logan, of Illinois.

Vice Presidents and Secretaries respectively—Alabama, Col. R. T. Smith, Capt. B. F. Williams; Arkansas, General H. B. Morse, Col. S. H. Root; California, General P. E. Connor, Col. James Coey; Connecticut, Col. Charles Warren, Lt. J. W. Knowlsen; Delaware, General A. T. A. Lorbett, Col. Wm. Lamott; Florida, Capt. Rowland Rombauer, Lt. J. B. Carroll; Georgia, Capt. W. Watson, Capt. E. B. McTimoney; Illinois, General Julius White, General E. S. Solomon; Indiana, General R. S. Foster, Major O. M. Wilson; Iowa, General C. L. Mathias, Capt. C. V. Gardiner; Kansas, Capt. Wm. J. Larimer, Col. G. W. Veal; Kentucky, Gen. John P. Croxton, Capt. Jas. M. Fidler; Louisiana, Gen. W. L. McMillan, Capt. P. B. C. Pinchback; Maine, Gen. Geo. L. Veal, Gen. H. M. Plaisted; Maryland, Gen. Andrew W. Dennison, Capt. H. Pariseen; Massachusetts, Gen. Jas. S. Cunningham, Col. R. G. Usher; Michigan, Gen. O. L. Spaulding, Capt. E. Weeks; Minnesota, Gen. C. C. Andrews, Col. J. G. Ege; Mississippi, Gen. H. W. Barry, Col. A. Warner; Missouri, Gen. John McNeill, Gen. Draper; Nebraska, Col. A. J. Harling, Major General John Gillespie; New Hampshire, Captain Joseph B. Clark, Chaplain Lovering; New Jersey, Col. Wm. Ward, Lieut. Lem. C. Reeves; New York, Gen. Charles K. Graham, Major A. C. Tate; North Carolina, Gen. S. G. Estis, Major. S. C. Mann; Ohio, Gen. Oliver Wood, Gen. Jas. M. Nash; Pennsylvania, Gen. H. L. Cake; Col. H. Calliman, Rhode Island, Gen. Charles H. Tompkins, Capt. Geo. B. Peck; South Carolina, Chaplain R. F. Whittemore, Sergt. E. Hayne; Tennessee, Gen. John B. Rodgers, Capt. H. E. Hudson; Texas, Major A. H. Longley, Dr. R. H. Smith; Vermont, Gen. Stephen Thomas, Private Henry Congdon; Virginia, Gen. H. A. Pierce, Capt. Geo. Tucker; West Virginia, Col. J. H. Lockwood, Capt. W. J. Purdy; Wisconsin, Gen. C. S. Hamilton, Capt. Henry Harshaw; District of Columbia, Gen. N. P. Chipman, Private Will A. Short.

Governor Fairchilds having announced that the father of General Grant was in the house, loud calls were made for him and he reluctantly responded and took his place upon the stage. The band playing "Hail Columbia" as Mr. Grant took his seat beside the chairman, the entire Convention rose to their feet and in "three times three" testified their respect for the father of the Nation's Chieftain. A speech was called for, and Mr. Grant, adjusting his spectacles, briefly addressed the Convention. He expressed himself as extremely astonished that he who had done nothing for the great Northwest, or for the country in particular, should be called upon by the braves of the nation to speak to them. [Replies by the Convention: "You had a boy, that's enough."] After exhorting the Convention to moderation and prudence in their proceedings, the old gentleman retired amidst the cheers of the Convention.

Gen. Logan was then conducted to his seat as Chairman, and after briefly thanking the Convention for the honor conferred, declined the nomination in favor of Gov. Fairchilds, who was then unanimously elected permanent Chairman.

Gov. Fairchilds thanked the Convention for this new honor, and in conclusion announced that as the Committee on Resolutions were not yet ready to report, he would introduce Gen. John Cochrane, of New York, who would address them.

General Cochrane on being introduced, said, in substance, that he hoped that every true soldier in the country would sit as a juror upon the conduct of the seven political traitors in the United States Senate, and would give in a verdict cashiering them and dismissing them from the service of their country. Senator Ross once was, but he is not now. Like Trumbull, he has been. The country casts him off, and the verdict of the people will consign him to a political grave too deep for resurrection. Do not forget Fessenden, who ranks himself on the side of traitors to the country. To the soldiers of Iowa he would say, dig a grave for the dead Grimes, and bury him as deep as his action while alive will warrant you.

At this point the band struck up the "Rogue's March," and interrupted the speaker, but to the evident satisfaction of all who cheered loudly.

The General said, when the applause had subsided—I fancy I see a column marching through the streets of Chicago, consigning these dead politicians to the most remote cemetery in the city. He called upon the soldiers of the nation to remember always how they had been treated by the men they had honored by giving them honorable positions, and to see to it that they are not again fooled by politicians.

At the conclusion of the General's speech, one of the Secretaries read a communication from the Common Council of Chicago, tendering the Soldiers' and Sailors' Convention the hospitality of the city. A vote of thanks to the Council was moved and unanimously voted.

Major Haggerty, of New York, was then called for and addressed the Convention at considerable length in a very happy strain, alluding to the recreant Senators who had not the back bone to do their duty, and suggesting that the greenbacks which the Democratic party so loudly decried had something to do with the acquittal of Andrew Johnson.

Col Hempstreet, of New York, offered the following, which was referred to the Committee on Resolutions:

"WHEREAS, Many of the late defenders of the Union being out of employment, and they and their families suffering privations by reason of their sacrifices in war, therefore,

Resolved, By us, the soldiers and sailors of the Republic in the late war, in National Convention assembled, on this 19th day of May, 1868, hold it to be the duty of the administrators of the National and State Governments to carry into practical effect a substantial gratitude to the defenders of the nation in bestowing upon those of our comrades who are needy employment in the offices of manual and clerical labor.

Resolved, That the Chairman of this Convention send a copy of these resolutions to the Chairman of the National Republican Convention.

Gen. Stokes, of Tennessee, being called for, came forward and addressed the Convention briefly, expressing his belief that a recruiting office should be opened in the Halls of Congress to enlist fourteen new Senators to prefer new charges against Andrew Johnson and vote him out of the White House. As to the recreant seven, whose names will go down to posterity covered with more shame than Benedict Arnold, he hoped the country would turn them out and consign them to that obscurity which justly envelopes every one who turns traitor to his principles and his country. Allusion had been made to the black man. He was here to defend the negro. He owed his life to the race and he could not be ungrateful. Who ever heard of a "secesh" negro? One hundred and fifty thousand of them had fought for the Union, and had in every way proven themselves good citizens and worthy of the name. Negroes had aided white men in Tennessee during the rebellion, and to them is due the acknowledgement that their efforts, united with those of Union white men, had preserved Tennessee, and to-day it was as loyal as any State in the Union. The negroes had proven themselves capable of using the ballot, for they had cast it always for the Republican party

THE RESOLUTIONS.

General Logan, chairman of the Committee on Resolutions, reported as follows:

Resolved, That the soldiers and sailors, steadfast now as ever to the Union and the flag, fully recognize the claims of General Ulysses S. Grant to the confidence of the American people, and believing that its victories under his guidance in war will now be illustrated by him in peace by such measures as shall secure the fruits of our exertions towards the restoration of the Union upon a loyal basis, we declare it as our deliberate conviction, that he is the choice of the soldiers and sailors of the Union for the office of President of the United States.

Resolved, That in the maintenance of those principles which underlie our government, and for which we fought during a four years' war, we pledge our earnest and active support to the Republican party, as the only political organization which, in our judgment, is true to the principles of loyalty, liberty and equality before the law.

Resolved, That, speaking for ourselves and the soldiers and sailors who imperilled their lives to preserve the Union, we believe that the impeachment of Andrew Johnson by the House of Representatives for high crimes and misdemeanors in office, and his trial before the United States Senate, have presented unmistakable proofs of his guilt, and that whatever may be the judgment of the tribunal before which he is arraigned, a verdict of guilty will be given by the people, and we regard any Senator who has voted for his acquittal as falling short of the proper discharge of his duty in this hour of the nation's trial and as unworthy of the confidence of a brave and loyal people.

Resolved, That the soldiers and sailors recognize no difference between the native and adopted citizens, and they demand that the government protest naturalized citizens abroad as well as those of native birth.

After the reading of the third resolution every member present rose to his feet and gave three hearty groans for Andrew Johnson and the traitorous Republican Senators, while the band played the "Rogue's March."

On motion of General Wm. Gregg, of New York, the above resolutions were unanimously adopted amid cheers for Grant.

On motion of Colonel H. C. Alleman, of Pennsylvania, it was Resolved, That a committee of nine be appointed to wait upon General Ulysses S. Grant and present him with a copy of the resolutions of the Soldiers' and Sailors' National Convention.

On motion of W. S. Andrews, of New York, it was

Resolved, That we, the soldiers of the Republic, extend to the loyal men of the South our sympathy and the promise of our support in the struggles yet in store for them under the present administration, before they can enjoy the liberties of American citizens without the fear of persecution and assassination, and that if necessary we stand ready to aid them with our strength in the future as we have in the past.

The Chairman announced the Committee of nine provided for in Col. Alleman's resolution, as follows:—Col. H. C. Alleman, Gen. William N. Gregg, Gen. Daniel E. Sickles, Gen. John A Logan, Gen. Alfred Pleasanton, Gen. John F. Hartranft, Col. W. B. Stokes, Capt. A. Grant and Governor James W. Hawley.

Several resolutions of thanks were offered and passed, after which, on motion of Gen. Sickles, of New York, the Convention adjourned subject to the call of the President.

PRESS ON IMPEACHMENT ACQUITTAL.

PARIS, May 19.—News of the acquittal of Johnson on the Eleventh Article was received here on Saturday evening. Nearly all of the papers of yesterday contained editorials on the subject.

The Temps, Democratic, says: Johnson was saved by legal form only. He has been deposed in the minds of the country.

The Journal Des Debats, Orleanist, says: While Johnson is acquitted the vote is such as to render him powerless hereafter.

La Liberte, radical opposition, says simply that the verdict shows that Liberty is the best guarantee of Justice.

The Constitutionel, semi-official Imperialist, regards the vote as fatal to the Radical party.

The Espagne was opposed to impeachment from the beginning. It blames the Republicans for attempting to remove the Executive on grounds so slight, and says that a great political party could not have more clumsily lost its prestige.

The Presse Austro, Catholic, ventures no decided opinions, but confines its remarks to admiration of the vitality of Republican institutions, which permit the Chief Magistrate of forty millions of people to be brought to trial without bloodshed or national disquiet.

HUNGARY.

LONDON, May 19.—Hungary asks the treaty making power to negotiate with the United States of America for a Convention by which she may fully participate in the benefits of the treaty for the protection of naturalized citizens recently concluded by the American Government with the North German Confederation.

FINANCIAL AND COMMESCIAL.

LIVERPOOL, May 19—Evening.—Cotton is irregular, closing at a decline of ⅛d.; sales of the day 5,000 bales at 12d. for uplands, and 12¼d. for Orleans. Wheat heavy but quotations unchanged. Corn steady. Provisions unchanged. Sugar firm at 28s.

LONDON, May 19—Evening.—Consols 94¾ a94⅞ for money; 93¼a93¾ account. Ex-dividend bonds 71¼a71⅝. Illinois 94¾. Erie 45¼. Bonds at Frankfort 76¾.

PARIS, May 19.—Bourse is dull. Rentes 69f. 57c.

ANTWERP, May 19—Evening.—Petroleum at 43f. for standard white.

METHODISM.

Quadrennial Conference of the Methodist Episcopal Church.

[By Telegraph to the Pittsburgh Gazette.]

CHICAGO, May 19.—The General Conference of the Methodist Episcopal Church, (sixteenth day,) assembled at the usual hour.

A telegram was read from the African Methodist Episcopal Church, now holding a General Conference in Washington, announcing the appointment of a delegation to the General Conference of the Methodist Episcopal Church, with proposals of affiliation and union.

The morning hour was largely consumed with the reception of petitions and addresses by delegations from Evangelical associations.

The Secretary presented a memorial from eight Episcopal clergymen of Newark, New Jersey, asking General Conference to consider the practicability of the union of the Protestant Episcopal with the Methodist Episcopal Church. The paper was referred to a Special Committee of Five.

Petitions were presented on boundaries, lay delegation, revision of discipline, presiding eldership, choirs, appeals, German Bishop and biennial sessions of General Conference.

Rev. J. W. Talley, of Georgia, submitted a resolution in regard to the organization of Conferences in the South, authorizing the existing Conferences in that section, by a two-thirds vote, to set off additional Conferences.

The purport of the resolution was understood to be that the Southern Conferences might organize colored preachers and members into separate Conferences.

Mr. Talley spoke at considerable length in support of his resolution.

Rev. Mr. Newman, of New Orleans, opposed it, contending for the abolition of caste in all Conferences. The resolution was referred to the Committee on Boundaries.

The special order of the day was taken up at two and a half o'clock, viz: Reception of the delegation from the Evangelical Association, Rev. Messrs. Bruchl and Dubbs. They were introduced by Bishop Thomson, and both spoke at considerable length, conveying to the Conference the fraternal greetings of the Evangelical Association and expressing a desire for a closer union.

FORTIETH CONGRESS.

[By Telegraph to the Pittsburgh Gazette.]

WASHINGTON, May 19, 1868.

Senate not in session.

HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES.

Reports were made of bills, &c., from the Committee of Claims. Several of mere personal interest passed.

After refusing to adjourn until Friday, an ineffectual effort was made by Mr. WASHBURNE, of Illinois, to get up the Indian appropriation bill, but no quorum voting the House adjourned until to-morrow.

—At a recent meeting in New York of eminent capitalists interested in claims against Mexico, at which parties from Boston, Philadelphia, Chicago, Washington, Baltimore, New Orleans and other cities and States were in attendance, resolutions were adopted authorizing General Starin to take such measures as shall bring the question before the United States and Mexican Governments in such a way as may lead to a prompt adjudication of such claims. It is understood these claims amount to about ten millions, and it was stated at the meeting that while M. Romero was cancelling English and Spanish obligations of the Mexican Government, he was entirely ignoring those of American citizens. The matter will be pushed with energy.

—A passenger on the steamer City of Cairo, named Jones, a liquor merchant of St. Louis, formerly sutler in the 11th Federal Missouri Regiment, jumped overboard just below New Madrid. He was hauled on board when it was discovered he had the mania potu. He was then confined in a state room, when he cut his throat from ear to ear.

THE CAPITAL.

[By Telegraph to the Pittsburgh Gazette.]

WASHINGTON, May 19, 1868.

NO LEGISLATION THIS WEEK.

As no legislative business is probable in Congress this week, a number of members have left for their homes. It is believed no quorum of either branch is in the city.

The Impeachment Managers are engaged examining witnesses to-day.

SUIT AGAINST STANTON.

John Nagle, of Prince William Co., Va., has brought suit for damages for $20,000 against Secretary Stanton, for injuries done his house and farm by some cavalry sent down by order of Stanton in the summer of 1865.

A DENIAL.

It is denied by the friends of Hon. D. W. Voorhees that he has been examined by the Impeachment Managers.

Washington Topics and Gossip.

Specials from Washington, Tuesday, state:

IMPEACHMENT.

The talk about impeachment, now that the first flush of disappointment is over, turns almost wholly over upon its connection with the Chicago Convention and its probable effect upon the action of that body. There is an almost unanimous hope expressed here, both in and out of Congress, that old Ben. Wade, who was kept by the concerted desertion of a squad of his own party from rendering signal service to the Republican cause and to the country, in the place where his enemies preferred Andrew Johnson should remain, shall be chosen by the People's Convention to preside for four years over the Senate, who defeated a just verdict. It seems to be agreed that the most fitting rebuke to the Senators who voted for acquittal, more direct and lasting than a formal reading out of the party, would be the nomination as the Union candidates for Vice Presidency of Benjamin F. Wade of Ohio.

Mr. Johnson denies positively that he has any intention of resigning, reconstructing his Cabinet or changing his course of action. He believes he is the embodiment of constitutional law, and has been thus proclaimed to the world by the Senate.

There is a report here that the Whisky Ring has paid out nearly three millions of dollars in the impeachment matter.

The recalcitrant Radical Senators are on the anxious bench to-day. They are fearful that the Chicago Convention will read them out of the Republican party, in which case their ill gotten gains would do them very little good.

The Managers did not hold a meeting, owing, perhaps, to the absence of Mr. Stevens, who was not as well as usual. It is understood that the leading spirits in the investigation are Butler and Stevens, assisted in the capacity of a volunteer detective by Mr. Covode, who has had great experience in that line. Logan has gone to Chicago, and Boutwell and Wilson are more sensible of difficulties in the way of pushing inquiry to any decisive result, even if their suspicions are correct. At their session Monday morning, the Managers examined Mr. J. C. Dunleavy, a Cincinnati banker, who testified to having paid twenty-five thousand dollars to the order of C. W. Wooley. Wooley was also examined. He admitted having received and disbursed that amount of money, but absolutely refused to divulge to whom it was paid, or for what purpose, though he averred it was not used by him to effect impeachment.

Senator Henderson was on the floor of the House a short time conversing with a member of the Missouri delegation. It is understood that the Committee to investigate the correspondence with reference to this Senator's vote on impeachment was already known, and that their report will not reflect injuriously upon the action of either party. Mr. Henderson was requested to appear before the Committee at their meeting, but for some cause failed to do so, and, therefore, the investigation of the Committee was not concluded as intended.

GRANT AND THE PRESIDENCY.

A New York Herald special says: Gen. Dent states that Gen. Grant has written a letter, which will be handed in due time to the President of the Chicago Convention, declining the nomination for the Presidency. In the letter Gen. Grant states that the only reason which could induce him to accept the position would be an anxiety for the complete restoration of the Union, and as Executive of the nation he could aid materially in promoting that end, but as the object is now almost completed, he would rather retain the position he now holds; he, however, hopes that the wisdom of the Convention may unite on a candidate who will do honor to the party and good for the country.

BRIEF NEWS ITEMS.

—Henry Sandoe hung himself in the insane department of the Lancaster county hospital, at Marietta, on Tuesday morning last.

—Josiah L. Pike was arraigned at Exeter, N. H., on Monday, for the murder of Mr. and Mrs. Brown. He pleaded guilty to the charges.

—The machine shop of the Oswego and Syracuse R. R. in Oswego, N. Y., were destroyed by fire on Sunday night. Total loss $40,000 to $50,000, partially insured.

—Madame Weiss and Dr. Webber have been arrested at New York, on the verdict of implication by the Coroner's jury in the death of the young girl Konigsberger by abortion.

—A large cotton mill in Upper Darby, Chester county, was struck by lightning and completely destroyed, last Thursday. There was an insurance of $35,000 on the machinery.

—France, Smith & Co., of Cincinnati, have been enjoined from drawing any lottery in Kentucky. The principals endeavored to avoid process by getting a negro to do the drawing.

—The twenty-sixth anniversary of the Sabbath Schools of Washington City was celebrated yesterday by processions, banners, music and appropriate exercises in several churches.

—The buildings of the Derby lumber company, at Derby, Connecticut, with their lumber yards, etc., were destroyed by fire on Sunday morning. Loss $50,000 to $90,000; insured for $15,000.

—Another section of twenty miles of the Union Pacific Railroad, Kansas branch, is completed, and the Commissioners have gone out to examine it. This finishes the track to the three hundred and eightieth mile post.

—Charles E. and Silas Jones were arraigned at Worcester, Mass., on Monday, for the murder of Louis Lafiamme, at Dudley, on the 17th of April last. They plead not guilty, were assigned counsel, and their trial fixed for June 1st.

—The annual meeting of the Missouri State Editorial Association will meet at St. Louis to-day. The annual address and a poem will be delivered, and general business relative to the interests of the fraternity will be transacted.

—Mr. Jesse Male suddenly disappeared from Dixon, Ill., on the 11th of April and was never heard from until last Thursday when his body was found in the river.

—W. H. Webb, the ship builder, boasts of having constructed 133 vessels of various descriptions. We know a tinner who has constructed more vessels than that, and of a large variety of descriptions.

—The successful pantomime "Humpty Dumpty" is to be brought out in Philadelphia at the new Chestnut street Theatre, which has become the home of the ballet and the burlesque in Philadelphia.

—Boston is to have a new park. It is hinted that this new movement has been made by the very few citizens of that town who have discovered that the common is not the garden from which Adam and Eve were driven.

—It is strange how a man thinks his reputation is safe with posterity, whenever he knows it is irretrievably lost with his cotemporaries. Mr. Johnson thinks he is safe in leaving his reputation to posterity.

—It is a long time since we have had a Presidential campaign without three or more candidates in the field. Always two big parties with big men and one little party with a little man. Mr. Chase seems now anxious to be the little man of this campaign.

—Three old cannon balls were dug up in Delaware the other day, near to the site of the old Swedish Fort Christina. These balls were much corroded as they had probably been buried for more than two hundred years.

—There was such a desire to hear the Rev. W. Morley Puncheon in Chicago on Sunday that the Opera House was crowded hours before the time, and hundreds of people had to go away without hearing or seeing the lion of the hour.

—Youatt, the well known veterinary surgeon, who has been bitten eight or ten times by rabid animals, says that crystal of the nitrate of silver, rubbed into the wound, will positively prevent hydrophobia in the bitten person or animal.

—A huge audience went on Sunday to Pike's Music Hall in Cincinnati to hear a temperance lecture from Neal Dow. Neal did not come, and so a Canadian enthusiast tried his lungs for a little while. The whole thing wound up with a collection.

—Yancey was killed. He was a rebel Senator from Alabama shortly after his unsuccessful mission abroad as a representative of the Confederacy, and had his back broken while engaged in a characteristic Southern argument in the Rebel capital.

—A religious magazine is indignant about the denial of Mr. Johnson that he was drunk during his great swing around the circle. This religious magazine then propounds the following conundrum, which is a poser: "If this is Johnson sober, what then is Johnson drunk?"

—The Chicago Tribune boasts of having had earlier news of the way the impeachment trial was going than any other paper in the west. The Chicago Tribune is owned by Senator Grimes, therefore, its opportunities for getting news of the conspirators were excellent.

—A clergyman, who went in a Pacific steamer, and was sea-sick, writes to the Independent: "The first hour I felt as if I wanted to go ashore; the second hour I felt as if I should die; the third hour I didn't care whether I died or not; the fourth hour I was afraid I shouldn't die."

—A philosopher, whose sands of life are nearly run out, and who has devoted himself for years to the study of the best means of advancement for young men, has discovered, and given to the world the following excellent rule: "How to make your mark. Take a piece of chalk, a piece of charcoal, a pen or a pencil." After taking these, only the slightest spark of intelligence is necessary to see how to proceed.

THE ATTEMPTED assassination of the Duke of Edinburg, at Sidney, we learn from fuller advices, took place as he was walking from the pavilion at the Sailors' Home, where he had been sharing a brilliant entertainment, to his barge at the beach. O'Farrell came out from a grove of trees and advanced until close behind the Prince, when he turned sharply round, drew a Springfield company's revolver, and with the muzzle of it almost touching the Prince's back, fired at his spine. The bullet passed through the centre seam of his braces, entered his back about half an inch from the junction of the ninth rib and the vertebræ, then glancing obliqely off the bone, traversed the rib round to about two inches under the breast bone and there lodged. The Prince's lower limbs were at once paralyzed, and he fell to the ground, exclaiming, "Oh God! he has broken my back." Sir Wm. Manning hearing the report behind him turned sharply round, and as he did so the assassin shouted "Stand back," covered him with his revolver, and snapped the cap. Fortunately the pistol missed fire, and before he could again fire a coachbuilder, named Vial, rushed on the ruffian and clasped him round the body. O'Farrell then attempted to shoot Mr. Vial, and a desperate struggle ensued. O'Farrell tried to shoot the Prince again as he lay on the ground, but his aim was diverted by Vial striking down the pistol, and the bullet, diverted from the prostrate Prince, went through the foot of a merchant named Thorne. In another second O'Farrell was surrounded on all sides and almost torn to pieces. The police would never have taken him off the ground alive but for Lord Newry having brought the Galatea's men ta aid them. Again and again the people forced a passage through the police, and tried to drag him away, until at last every shred of clothing was torn off the wretch. The police still faced the crowd, but retreating towards the steamer's wharf, along which O'Farrell was dragged on board the steamer, the plank was thrown overboard, thus severing communicati n with the shore, and the steamer moved away. About the Prince's marquee number of ladies were to be seen fainting and in hysterics; men whom no amount of danger could terrify, with faces white with rage, but not through fear, asked: "What will they say in England?" —"O if he should die, what will his mother say?" O'Farrell had been following the Prince for some time, seeking an opportunity to assassinate him. When he was arrested a second revolver, fully loaded, was found on his person, and while being secured he exclaimed, "I am a Fenian. I'll die for my country. God bless Ireland!" He has also said that a commission was sent to him from home to execute the Prince, and that ten men had sworn to do it if the lot fell to them.

"ONE of the female attaches of Yankee Robinson's circus," says the Quincy Herald, "who now appears in 'Undine,' on the gilded throne, is the daughter of a Philadelphia banker, and a graduate of a first class boarding school. She lately visited Decatur, to see some relatives, and made the acquaintance of a roving, rakish young man, with whom she eloped to Clinton, Iowa. She now wears as short dresses, as neat tights, and displays her ankles and accompanying charms as liberally as her more experienced sisters. A company of ladies tried to reform her, but she said she had an invincible hankering for sawdust and spangles."

A CURIOUS method of killing rats is recommended in a German journal as very efficient. A piece of new or unused sponge is cut into small pieces, which are smeared with butter, and placed within the reach of the rats, next to a dish of water. The rats eat the sponge, and becoming thirsty drink the water, which swells the sponge, and in a short time kills the animals, which are found lying dead all around.

RIVER NEWS.

Both rivers continue to recede steadily at this point with eight and a half feet in the Monongahela, and nine and a half feet in the Allegheny. The weather yesterday was clear and pleasant, and it begins to look as if we were about to have some fine settled weather.

The Bayard, from Parkersburg, arrived and departed, and the Grey Eagle was due last night, and will depart as usual to-day at noon.

The St. Marys did not get off until about nine o'clock on Monday night, and we understand that she had a very good trip.

The Armenia left for St. Louis last evening with an excellent trip, having all the freight she could take and a fair number of passengers.

The Argosy and J. N. McCullough, from Cincinnati, and the Lorena, Wauanita and Glendale, from St. Louis, are among the first boats due. The McCullough may be expected here to-morrow forenoon, and will return as usual on Thursday at noon.

The Armadillo will commence loading for St. Louis on Saturday or Monday.

The turn system, established by the St. Louis boats some time since, appears to be working admirably. While boats are not likely to make quite as many trips, they are, nevertheless, getting much better prices, and this is the all important consideration; the turn system, we have no hesitation in saying, is much better for owners, but not so good for crews.

The R. C. Gray, Captain Anderson, is gilling up steadily for Cincinnati, Madison and Louisville.

House bill No. 1,046, introduced by Mr. Eliot, of Massachusetts, read twice and referred to the Committee on Commerce, makes appropriations, among others, as follows:

For improvement of the Upper Mississippi river and removing snags and dredging, $60,000; for construction of dam and lock at Little Falls, Minnesota river, $30,000; for improvement of Des Moines Rapids, $900,000; for improvement of the Rock Island Rapids, $200,000; for improvement of the mouth of the Mississippi river, $100,000; for improvement of the Mississippi, Missouri and Arkansas rivers, $185,000; for improvement of the Upper Missouri river, $60,000; for improvement of the Illinois river, from its mouth toward La Salle, $100,000; for improvement of the Ohio river, $250,000.

The following is section 3 of the bill:

SEC. 3. And be it further enacted, That the sum of four hundred and fifty thousand dollars is hereby appropriated toward completing the Louisville and Portland Canal, in accordance with the plans and estimates made in the report of General Godfrey Weitzel, and that the Government of the United States do hereby assume the payment of the bonds issued for the completion of the said canal and branch, amounting to the sum of fifteen hundred and sixty-seven thousand dollars: Provided, that all title to and right in said canal and its appurtenances be ceded to and vested in the United States, and that the State of Kentucky shall relinquish all claim to the government of the same; said canal on and after its completion to be and remain free from all tolls and tribute except so much as shall be necessary to operate the same and keep it in repair, and that all moneys in the hands of the Treasurer of the canal company, when transferred shall be paid into the Treasury of the United States."

We clip the following items from the Cincinnati Gazette, of Monday: It was rumored yesterday that the John H. Groesbeck and Swallow would both go to Pittsburgh to load for New Orleans.

The Kate Putnam, Pittsburgh to St. Louis, passed down yesterday full of freight and passengers. Pilots, Byron Clark and Lew. Bratchey.

The Argosy left for Pittsburgh on Saturday night, well loaded.

The J. N. McCullough left for Pittsburgh about noon yesterday with a moderate trip.

The Cincinnati Times has some very sensible and likewise bitter remarks about the bridge proposed to be built between that city and Newport, from which it will be judged that our Cincinnati friends are not very favorably disposed towards the new "trap." This bridge, it will be remembered, is to have only about 300 feet space between the piers, which will probably effectually stop the passage of tows of large steamers, or cause them so much trouble or delay as to seriously interfere with the commerce of the river.

FROM FORT BENTON—FIRST BOAT OF THE SEASON.—A private telegram received from Fort Benton says that the Ohio river steamer Success arrived there on the 15th instant, being the first boat of the season. There are twenty inches of water on Dauphin's rapids, and it is rising slowly. The water is much lower than at the same time last season, when there were five feet at the same place. Many boats will have difficulty in getting up.

River and Weather.

[By Telegraph to the Pittsburgh Gazette.]

LOUISVILLE, May 19.—River rising slowly, with sixteen feet of water in the canal. Weather clear and pleasant.

ST. LOUIS, May 19.—Weather clear and pleasant.

GOLD closed in New York yesterday at 139⅝.

THE consummation of the Alaska purchase is recommended by a majority of the House Committee on Foreign Affairs, and they have reported a bill accordingly. A minority of the Committee, Messrs. WASHBURNE and MORGAN, oppose it. The final action of the House on the subject will be irrespective of party lines, but the bill is likely to pass.

ILLINOIS Republicans are circulating a call for Senator TRUMBULL to resign. the trust which he has abused, and the paper receives thousands of signatures, including those of the most prominent men of the party. In case he shall disregard this expression of opinion from his constituents, the Senate is urged to displace him from his post at the head of the Judiciary Committee, a position conferred upon him for a Republican faith which he has betrayed, and for legal abilities, which have been shamefully prostituted to defeat the ends of justice.

IT IS simply just to the friends of Senator WADE to state that the opposition alleged to exist against him among the Ohio Republicans is confined to his own immediate district, is represented by one or two journals at most, is based entirely upon personal considerations connected with the disposal of the Federal offices in that section, and is not shared by any numerically respectable portion of the Republican party. There are several candidates urged at Chicago for the second place on the ticket, who are much less fortunate than Mr. WADE in securing an undivided support from their respective States. Thus much in justice to a sound Republican and deservedly eminent Senator.

GENERAL GRANT'S intention to decline the Chicago nomination was reported yesterday afternoon. The rumor is probably based upon a letter of acceptance already written, modestly deprecating any undue expectations which his countrymen may entertain of his executive abilities. If he should also have added an expresston of his belief that the Convention might have found some worthier nominee than himself, his letter will be characteristic of the man, and afford another proof, not that the man seeks the office, but that the office seeks and has found a man really worthy of it. Copperheads may represent that as a declination, but the American people will think otherwise in November.

THE Conservative journals complain of the harshness with which they and the recreant Senators are handled. We think this complaint comes from them with a bad grace. Of all the journals in this country, they are most conspicuous for severity of language and uncharitableness of imputation. Indeed, the larger share of the reputation they enjoy for superior intellectua force and acumen has been produced by cheek to say harsh and injurious things of those from whom they have differed, rather than by mental power to develop ideas, or trace analogies, or conduct trains of close argumentation. Their favorite weapon has been the tomahawk, and they do not relish the application of it to their own skulls.

THE CONSERVATIVE JOURNALS started out nimbly in the defence of FESSENDEN and TRUMBULL, imagining they were to have an easy time of it. Already they have discovered a pressing need to defend themselves. This they do in a peculiar manner, insisting that they have incessantly denounced the conduct of the President as bold, bad, mischievous and unconstitutional, and that in this particular they have been as zealous as the Radical journals. Now, we have no disposition to deny that they have done in this regard all they claim. They do not exaggerate their labors on that head. But, what we want of them now is to explain why, conceding the President to be guilty of such conduct as they impute to him, it was expedient or wrong to convict him on the Articles of Impeachment, and degrade him from the position he prostitutes and disgraces? Does conservatism consist in letting bad, bold, mischievous and unconstitutional doings go unchallenged and unpunished.

THE INVESTIGATION.

The House of Representatives have ordered the Managers of Impeachment to inquire into the charges what have been so freely and boldly preferred against the integrity of Senators, whose betrayal of their own Senatorial constiuency, potitical faith and personal honor can be accounted for on no other hypothesis. There are reasons for believing that this enquiry will result in revelations most astounding to such of their countrymen as yet retain their old confidence in the political and personal honesty of these men. If, as now anticipated, the investigation should substantiate these accusations, it is not unlikely that the Executive which has, by bribes to corrupt Judges, thus far escaped from the jusf punishment of his official misconduct, may yet be reached by another articie of impeachment. The right to prefer additional charges has been expressly, and, as events are likely to prove, most wisely, reserved by the Managers. Should this right again be exercised, an issue will be distinctly presented between Corruption and the People, and the mask which disguises the most dangerous enemies to Public Virtue and Liberty, will be torn from the faces of the conspirators. We shall then see the members of the whiskey ring compelled to face the music, and none will more cordially accept the issue than will those Senators whose hands are clean.

THE AXE AT THE ROOT.

Republican members of Congress owe it to themselves, to the Union sentiment of the South, and to the repose of the entire country, to lose no unnecessary time in admitting the reconstructed Statcs to representation. Especially ought the Republican Senators to pass at once the House bill for the admission of Arkansas. We hope that, when this body reassembles on Thursday, the bill already reported back from the judiciary and awaiting the final acting of the Senate, will be the same day taken up and passed.

Senator FESSENDEN may forego his Pecksniffian parade of apprehensions that the new Senators would claim and exercise the right of voting. Our Republican friends will neither adopt the precedent furnished by his Democratic brother VICKERS, from Maryland, who came in after the commencement of the trial, but has never failed in all subsequent votes to record his name, nor will they yield to the provocations which treachery and corruption have made very hard to bear. The wise counsels of our party would recognize as both inexpedient and improper, any such proposition, so far as it concerns the remaining ten articles. They are not assisted to this conclusion by the remonstrances of men like FESSENDEN whose records are not such as to entitle them to descant upon Senatorial proprieties. Repressing their just indignation they, content themselves with admiring his brazen assurance, and will aim to avoid his infamous example.

But the public voice has demanded that a thorough investigation shall be made into those allegations of corruption against the President and his judges, which are supported by the strongest prima facie evidence, and which afford the only plausible explanation of his success in escaping from the penalty for the crimes which the suspected judges themselves long since laid at his door. It is not for us to assure our readers that these disgraceful accusations will be found capable of clear proof. We do not doubt, nor does the country at large, that the President has escaped conviction on the eleventh article by the use of the most criminally corrupt means. But the plans of JOHNSON and his abettors have been, no doubt, skilfully laid, and they have aimed to secure an absolute secresy by every precaution known to men familiar with the use of such agencies. It is quite probable that all efforts to unravel the plot, and expose the conspirators to the righteous punishmeut they may deserve, will be baffled and that the conditions of the bargain, the price paid, and by whom, and for what, whether it was to be in office or gold, may never be clearly revealed. But the investigation has been ordered and will be made. It will be prosecuted searchingly, and without loss of time, by men who are resolutely in earnest. If they succeed in their quest, the fresh crime will be embodied in a new article and the Senate will find itself called upon to try not only Executive usurpations but the corruption of its own judgment seat.

Such a supplementary impeachment will find the Senate reinforced by its new members, and their title to try the new question can neither be gainsayed nor avoided. Yet, if common rumor has even a partial foundation, there are other Senators, besides the seven recreants of last Saturday, who have surrendered their oaths and their personal honor to the corruptions of power and emolument, and to the blandishments of that fascinating wickedness which centres about the Capital, and who, if needed to save the villainous league which JOHNSON represents, will unite with the infamous seven of last week to secure his further acquittal. If this be true, it would be idle folly, worse than time lost, to attempt other measures for his removal without strengthening the reliable and incorruptible side of the Senate. The Arkansas Senators would not be enough for this. Let the majority of honest men who still control that body take immediate action upon the bill admitting the five other States, which passed the House on Friday, and then the Senate will be in a position to defy the corruption which has thus far shamefully triumphed. The conspirators would find success more difficult with the new Senators, and with their objective point itself to be the issue in judgment.

We write in plain language. This is no time for mincing expressions. An issue has been defiantly made, between Honesty and Corruption in the public service, and made, too, by the men who are suspected. The Republicans of Congress have accepted the issue, and should fight it out on that line if it takes all summer. Our duty to the country is to convict and remove traitors from power. Our duty to the loyal and honest masses of the Republican party is to denounce its rascals, and expel them from our ranks. Our duty to Public Virtue, which is the essential principle of true Republicanism, is to attack corruption, venality and profligacy in high stations, no matter who shall be hit. The public and private delinquencies of the national metropolis find their patron, protector and screen in the Executive power. The unsparing hand of the popular condemnation must reach that high place, or the hope of public reform will be again disappointed. The Representatives will strike at the vital spot, where they shall attack, not the policy which corruption successfully defends, but the corruption itself. If the pending investigation is to bear this fruit, it will ripen in due time for the lasting good of the Republic.

DUTY OF THE HOUR.

The first impression produced by a great betrayal, whether of public or of private trust or confidence, is that of despondency. It is a natural revulsion which leads those who are thus wronged to feel and act as if "all men were liars;" as if social engagements or party organizations would disintegrate and chaos supervene. But a little reflection induces a healthier condition of the sentiments, and a sense of the injury endured gives way to the desire to inflict merited punishment upon the evil doers. If any one supposes this reaction is not healthful and proper, it is because he takes counsels of his fears, or is under the domination of a sickly sentimentalism.

What shall be done with the recreant Senators? Timid Republicans say, handle them gently; they may be acting under the inspiration of creditable motives; at all events, they have troops of friends, and if resentment is shown for what they have done, they may inflict yet more serious and irreparable injury upon the Republican cause. We have no faith in this method of treatment. There is a higher stand-point from which to look at a flagrant and galling betrayal like that executed by FESSENDEN, TRUMBULL, GRIMES and ROSS. What does Justice demand? What is essential to deter men, elevated to high public positions, from following the example of these deceivers when occasions shall arise in which baseness will pay a round pecuniary profit. Under this view it is clearly the duty of Republicans to kick these men out of the party; to refuse association with them; and above all to make no abatements of principle to conciliate them.

When RANDALL, DOOLITTLE, COWAN and DIXON played the same low game these four men are engaged in, there were Republicans who said—Take care what you do; these are eminent personages; they assign plausible reasons for what they have done, and mean to do; they have vast patronage at their disposal, through the favor of the President, and will obtain a numerous following. For a time some heed was given to these urgent intimations. All the harm the betrayers contrived to do the Republican party came through the wretched policy of seeking to appease them, or through the baseness of a few individuals and journals who cringed to them servilely in order to secure their interposition in obtaining patronage.

It must be remembered, moreover that these four betrayers belong in States where no danger can possibly come to the Republican organization from a rigorous treatment of them. Neither of them, nor all of them combined, can shake the fidelity of Maine, Illinois, Iowa and Kansas to Republican doctrine and discipline. It is entirely safe, on the low ground of expediency to treat these men as the sentiment of honor demands.

FESSENDEN and TRUMBULL, partly in consequence of unusnal abilities, partly by virtue of fortunate manners, and partly by good luck, which unaccountably attends some persons, have until now, escaped rude criticisms. It will be wholesome to subject them to the sharp vindication. If dealt with according to their deservings, not a score of men either in Maine or Illinois will be found to keep them company in their desertion of the party. Besides, if the conduct of these men is tolerated; more, if it shall be esteemed disorderly to speak and act towards them according to their ways; it becomes a serious question to determine what hold the organization will have upon the masses who are attached to it from belief in its principles and a paramount desire to consumate its professed policy. These hundreds of thousands are not to be trifled with. An attempt practically to convert the party into a mere machine for getting and dispensing places and contracts, might, and doubtless would, suit some; but what of those who would not thus be suited? It is expected they will follow a disgraced banner with no other legend than "Loaves and Fishes?" Whoever so calculates, deceives himself.

The Republican party, with here and there an exception too insignificant to count, feel outraged by the conduct of the recreant Senators. They cannot be made to sanction what has been done, or the doers thereof. It would feel to them like a personal defilement to consort with the men at whose hands they have suffered. It is folly to talk to them of offices or jobs. They have never shared in either, and do not wish to. What they want is a good and honest Government. Looking upon the Republican party only as an instrument to that end, they ask it to merit continued confidence by dealing rightously with the men who have betrayed it.

The National Convention has a duty in this particular. As the highest authoritative exponent of the party, the obligation devolves on it of giving such utterances to its feelings and purposes in view of the emergency, as shall satisfy the expectations of the constituences represented therein. There are two ways of doing this. One is by a formal denunciation and repudiation of the recusants. The other is, by a full and calm reiteration of the distinctive principles and measures of the organization, and the selection of such candidates as shall vitalize this recapitulation. Of the two methods, the last is in all respects the best. It comports with the dignity of the great party that successfully conducted the Republic through the ordeal of the rebellion; for it does not rest for explication so much upon words, as upon deeds. The meaning will be found, not in subtle linguistic interpretation, but will be known and read of all men in the established character of the nominees.

IT IS NOW known that Chief Justic CHASE entered upon the trial of President JOHNSON, having fully prejudged the case, and determined that he should not be convicted, no matter what the specifications against him or the proof offered to sustain them. This predetermination, moreover, was the result, not of serious and dispassionate conviction, but of a disreputable political intrigue. Early in life, conceiving the high and laudable ambition of reaching the Chief Executive Chair, he has kept his eyes steadily on the prize, but so far it has eluded his pursuit. By intellectual endowments and preliminary discipline eminently qualified to so perform the duties of the great station as to reflect honor upon it, he has been discarded, in part, at least, because of his superior fitness for the post. The cause of his exclusion is plainly inferable, not only from the facts of his own case, but from several other instances of like character with which all men acquainted with the course of political events in this country for the past thirty years, are perfectly familiar. It is a most censurable infirmity of our people that they commonly prefer complying and plastic mediocrities to those exceptional and superior characters which are the natural and proper leaders of nations. This has galled and soured Mr. CHASE, as it did Mr. CALHOUN, Mr. WEBSTER and Mr. SEWARD before him. Hence, he listened to overtures from the Democrats if he did not instigate them, proffering him their nomination to the Presidency on condition of co-operating with them to secure the acquittal of Mr. JOHNSON. Perhaps, even a more sordid temptation was superadded to this, and both accepted together. At all events, he has confessed to the expectation of becoming the Democratic candidate, or, failing that, of becoming an independent candidate, doubtless with the hope of thereby throwing the election into the House of Representatives, under circumstances favorable to his chances.

With this confession coming from him, there are persons who still talk of his undoubted purity, and judicial uprightness! Those who thus foolishly talk have the infatuation to reproach the Republican majority of the two houses of Congress for proceeding against Mr. JOHNSON on purely partizan grounds. The Chief Justice and the Republican Senators who coincided with him were acting upon the lowest possible political considerations, because personal to themselves: and yet they cast a storm of contumely upon the Republican majorities who were actuated by much higher motives and with a broader view of public policy and duty.

Doubtless the impeachment of the President was a political movement. From the very nature of the case, it could not be otherwise. His post and its functions are political. The offences for which impeachment is the constitutional remedy, are necessarily political. For all other offences he is liable to be proceeded against, the same as any other man, by indictment. For political transgression he can only be reached in an effectual manner, by impeachment. Hence, to clamor against his arraignment by that process, is to signify a willingness to endure him with absolute impunity, by rendering all impeachments for official dereliction impossible.

The Chief Justice, therefore, by his own confession, stands degraded from the high repute in which he has long been held by a large proportion of his countrymen. He has justified the reproaches cast upon him for years by the Democrats of being cold, calculating, selfish, implacable, ambitious, not devoted to principles, but seeking to make principles minister to his personal aggrandisement.

MEN HAVE been found so degraded as to insist that a husband should wink at the dishonor cast upon him by an adulterous wife. In imitation of this baseness, the Conservative journals maintain that the Republicans ought not to censure and repudiate the Senators by whom they have been betrayed and humiliated, but treat them as deserving of the highest consideration and respect. This is because these jonrnals are mixed up in the conspiracy they extenuate. But they go still further and wage snch a declaration of principles by the Republican National Convention as shall not only excuse the treachery, but absolutely gild it.

The mistake of these journals consists in supposing others have no more regard for their principles than they have themselves. Nor is it true that the course they recommend would conduce to harmony in the Republican party. The masses of that party feel that they have been cruelly betrayed, and they resent it. They will neither condemn the offenders, nor accept a platform that shall even by implication shield them from rebuke. They want nothing to do with them. A necessity exists for consulting the wishes and feelings of these earnest hundreds of thousands of voters; outraged as they feel they are, they will not now be trifled with, and tamely submit. They have judged the betraying Senators; and are judging all who try to explain away or excuse their great fault.

Let these Senators everywhere be denounced, as they deserve, and they will be powerless. To treat with them on terms of equality—to abate the declared purposes of the party to conciliate it, to allow them guilty to enjoy the positions they abuse—will certainly disgust or dispirit, or alienate a thousand for every man it will appease or attract. The path of expediency is identical in that of honor.

—At Toronto (Canada) Monday night, orders were received from Ottawa for the volunteer forces to hold themselves in readiness to move at an hour's notice. It is presumed the order was issued as a measure of precaution in case Gen. O'Neil should attempt another raid.

POLITICAL INTRIGUES have ever been a favorite specialty with Mr. CHASE. His first prominent achievement in that line was observed in Ohio in the winter of 1847-'8. A Senator was to be chosen by a Legislature in which a handful of Free-Soilers held the balance of power in each branch. Mr. CHASE, at that time a prominent lawyer at Cincinnati and who had been for years identified with the Liberty and Free-Soil parties, betook himself to the Capital, and there initiated and successfully carried through an intrigue by which the Free-Soilers and Democrats swept the field. In consideration of electing CHASE to the Senate, and of the repeal of the Black Laws of Ohio, the Democracy were rewarded with all the State offices in the Legislative gift. The compact was fulfilled by both parties, and the Democracy, to obtain control of the State, sent CHASE to the Senate and repealed the laws against the blacks. The success of this corrupt intrigue was entirely due to the personal efforts of CHASE, who exhibited a tenacity and unscrupulous directness of purpose which Ohio politicians can never forget. It remains to be seen whether his later intrigue will succeed so well.

MR. CHASE has had in the past no more constant friend and able advocate, as a statesman of surpassing ability and spotless fame, than the N. Y. Tribune has steadily shown itself. He has now, from the same journal the following righteous judgment:

The man who has done more than all others, unless in a pecuniary way, to secure this result, is Chief Justice Chase. He decided the vote of Mr. Van Winkle. He did his utmost—happily in vain—to carry off Messrs. Anthony and Sprague. We doubt that Mr. Henderson would have voted as he did but for the Chief Justice's exertions. Those exertions saved Andrew Johnson from the verdict which we feel that he has worked hard and successfully to deserve.

So the Republican party stands for ever relieved from all responsibility for Mr. Johnson's future misdeeds. Let him now wrest the command of the army from Gen. Grant—let him wield the military as well as civil power of the Government in the interest of rebellion and aristocracy—let him obstruct to the utmost the return of the Southern States, free and loyal, to the councils of the Republic—the couniry and the world will hold us wholly blameless. Messrs. Chase, Fessenden & Co., have taken the Old Man of the Sea upon their shoulders—we shall see how they bear up under the load! They have nine months ahead of such responsibility as we do not covet—we shall be agreeably disappointed if it does not break them down.

Thanks to Infinite Mercy, there is an ordeal before us in which a concurrence of two-thirds is not required to insure a righteous verdict. Let Messrs. Chase, Fessenden & Co., take care of their man Johnson, while we organize for and make certain the joyful advent of Grant and victory.

A VERY large number of the New England delegates to the Chicago Convention, finding themselves at Niagara Falls on Saturday, assembled, organized a formal meeting and unanimously adopted the following:

Resolved, That, in our judgment, the evidence laid before the Senate fully proves that Andrew Johnson is guilty of high crimes and misdemeanors, as charged by the House of Representatives; and that the safety of the country, the preservation of the legitimate authority of Congress, the establishment of republican institutions in the late rebel States, and the restoration of commercial prosperity, and lasting peace, founded on the basis of equal justice, imperatively demand his immediate removal from office.

BEWARE

Of that remorseless and insidious destroyer of the human race,

CONSUMPTION.

Check and conquer its advances, lest you fall the victim. When attacked with any of its preliminary symptoms, no matter how slight, be on your guard and promptly use the remedy ere too late.

DR. SARGENT'S COUGH SYRUP

Is an old, well tried, certain and standard remedy for Coughs, Colds, Asthma, Croup, Difficulty of Breathing, Pain or Oppression in the Chest or Lungs, and all Diseases of the Pulmonary Organs. Its sure and certain efficacy has been fully tested and endorsed for many years by numbers of well-known citizens in our midst, and their certificates are on record. Have you a cough which has gradually increased from a slight one to one of permanent standing? Lose no time, but procure a bottle of DR. SARGENT'S COUGH SYRUP, which will surely relieve you of the dangerous premonitory symptoms and effect a permanent cure. Do you spend miserable days and long sleepless nights of torture and pain from attacks of Asthma or Difficulty of Breathing? Dr. SARGENT'S Cough Syrup will act promptly, relieve you, and gradually restore you to your freedom of pain, and sound, pleasant sleep. Are your lungs sore and irritated, indicating inflammation? This is one of the most dangerous symptoms, and should be promptly removed. Dr. SARGENT'S Cough Syrup will heal the soreness, allay the inflammation, and restore the lungs to their prestine health and vigor. This Cough Syrup is pleasant and agreeable to take, while powerful and sure in its action. For sale by all Druggists in the country.

"BLESSINGS BRIGHTEN AS THEY TAKE THEIR FLIGHT."

Home, friends and all the enjoyments of life seem infinitely more dear to the sufferer from nervous debility when the probability is that, ere long, he must leave them forever. When the health has become impaired, and the strength is failing, then life looks more alluring. Stimulants are the only means of restoration in cases of nervous debility. The great difficulty has been to provide a stimulant possessing not only medicinal merit, but one affording permanent relief. If HOSTETTER'S STOMACH BITTERS is resorted to in such cases, its beneficial effects will soon become apparent in the buoyancy of spirits and renewed strength of the hitherto dejected patient. Experience has proved this preparation to be "the Remedy of the age" for nervous debility, as well as all diseases arising from derangement of the stomach and liver.

Persons advanced in life, and feeling the hand of time weighing heavily upon them, with all its attendant ills, will find in the use of HOSTETTER'S CELEBRATED STOMACH BITTERS—an elixir that will instil new life into their veins; restore, in a measure, the ardor and energy of more youthful days; build up their shrunken forms and give health and vigor to their remaining years. Those who are in the least afflicted with Dyspepsia, Ague, Languor, Nausea, or any other troublesome and dangerous disease, arising from a disordered system, should not hesitate to avail themselves of the benefit derived from this great remedy.

The immense quantities of this invaluable tonic that are consumed, and which is steadily increasing, year by year, is sufficient in itself to disarm the most skeptical.

ANOTHER CURE OF DEAFNESS.

I lost my hearing during the last year. Part of the time I was totally deaf. In April of this year I was induced, from an advertisement, to make application to DR. KEYSER, 120 Penn street, Pittsburgh. After having tried various medicines from doctors, without any benefit, I have been under Dr. Keyser's treatment now for nearly two months, and am entirely restored to my hearing, so that I can hear a pin drop.

JOHN SCANLAN,
Coal Bluffs, Washington Co., Pa.

ANOTHER CURE.

A man called to-day at Dr. Keyser's office to inform him of a great cure made by his LUNG CURE, or PULMONARY RESTORATIVE. list these cures are made with the Doctor's preparations, he desires it to be distinctly understood that most of his great cures are made in accordance with the established laws that govern the science of medicine, in which he has been engaged for the past twenty-five years. Last week he was also in receipto of a letter from a clergyman in the State of Ohio, detailing another most wonderful cure.

CITY OF PITTSBURGH WATER LOAN.

PROPOSALS FOR

OF THE

Bonds of the "Water Extension Loan,"

Will be received at the office of the CITY CONTROLLER, Fourth street.

These are COUPON BONDS, bearing interest at the rate of SEVEN PER CENT. per annum, payable semi-annually, at the office of the City Treasurer, and the Bonds are to be paid off in twenty-five years from April 1, 1868.

By Act of Assembly the Revenue of the Water Works is pledged for the payment of the Bonds and Coupons, and the latter are by law made receivable for Water Rents, and the Act authorizing the Loan creates a SINKING FUND of not less than two per cent. of all bonds which may have been issued in pursuance of said Act. The Councils are bound to appropriate annually a sufficient sum for interest, and not less than two per cent. of all bonds which may have issued to go into the Sinking Fund.

The proceeds of these Bonds can only be used for the extension and improvement of the City Water Works, which will increase the revenue, while at present it is far greater than is required to insure the payment of interest and retirement of the Bonds.

The Bonds are EXEMPT FROM STATE, COUNTY and CITY TAX, which, together with all the foregoing advantages, make the Bonds the most desirable security offered to the public.

Bids under par will not be considered.

THE UNION PACIFIC

RAILROAD COMPANY

OFFER A LIMITED AMOUNT OF THEIR

FIRST MORTGAGE BONDS

AT PAR,

PRINCIPAL AND INTEREST

PAYABLE IN GOLD.

The Great Pacific Railroad Line, extending 1731 miles from Omaha, on the Missouri River, to the tide-waters of the Pacific Ocean, is being built by two powerful Companies—THE UNION PACIFIC, beginning at Omaha, building west, and the Central Pacific of California, beginning at Sacramento, building east, until the two roads shall meet.

Both Companies have prosecuted the work with great vigor, the Union Pacific having already expended over

THIRTY MILLION DOLLARS,

And the Central over TWENTY MILLIONS, upon their respective parts of the undertaking. THE UNION PACIFIC HAVE COMPLETED 550 MILES—have iron and other materials for two hundred miles more upon the ground, and one hundred additional miles are ready for the track. They will have a much larger force employed this year than ever before, and it is expected that between will be in operation during 1868. There seems to be no reasonable doubt that the distance between Omaha and Sacramento will be traversed by rail in 1870.

THE GOVERNMENT GRANTS 12,800 acres of land, and its Bonds to the average amount of $28,000 per mile, to aid in the construction of the line, and authorizes the issue of the First Mortgage Bonds now offered for sale, to the same amount and no more. The Government takes a SECOND lien, and gives to the First Mortgage Bondholder a prior lien for their security, to which a large paid-up capital is added. The Bonds cannot be issued except as each section of twenty miles is accepted by Government commission, so that they always represent a real property.

It is universally admitted that on the completion of the Union Pacific Railroad, its through business will make it one of the most profitable in the world—but its way or local business is already several times the interest on its bonds; so that, if not another mile were built, they would be a secure investment.

THE NET EARNINGS for eight months of last year on an average of 386 miles are officially reported at $1,069,136, while the interest on all the Bonds it could issue on that length of road for that time, reduced to currency, was only $345,856.

The amount paid by the Government for the transportation of troops, munitions, stores and mails has been, and doubtless will continue to be, much more than the interest on the United States Second Mortgage Bonds. If it is not, the charter provides that after the road is completed, and until said bonds and interest are paid, at least five per cent. of the net earnings of the road shall be applied to such payment.

The Union Pacific Bonds are for $1,000 each, and have coupons attached. They have thirty years to run, and bear annual interest, payable on the first days of January and July, at the Company's Office in the City of New York, at the rate of six per cent. in gold. The Principal is payable in gold at maturity. At the present rate of gold, these bonds pay an annual income on their cost of

NEARLY NINE PER CENT.,

AND IT IS BELIEVED THAT THEY WILL SOON BE AT A PREMIUM.

The Company have but a very limited supply of their Bonds remaining on hand, but any subscriptions accepted to a greater amount than can be filled from Bonds now in the Company's possession, will be supplied from the New Bonds to be issued on that portion of the road completed in the Spring, in the order in which they are received.

The Company reserve the right to advance the price of their bonds to a rate above par at any time, and will not fill any orders or receive any subscriptions on which the money has not been actually paid at the Company's office before the time of such advance.

Parties subscribing will remit the par value of the bonds and the accrued interest in currency at the rate of six per cent. per annum, from the date on which the last coupon was paid. Subscriptions will be received in Pittsburgh by

AND IN NEW YORK

At the Company's Office, No. 20 Nassau Street, and by JOHN J. CISCO & SON, Bankers, No. 59 Wall Street, and by the Company's advertised agents throughout the United States.

Remittances should be made in drafts or other funds par in New York, and the Bonds will be sent free of charge by return express. Parties subscribing through local agents, will look to them for their safe delivery.

A PAMPHLET AND MAP FOR 1868 has just been published by the Company, giving fuller information than is possible in an advertisement, respecting the Progress of the Work, the Resources of the Country traversed by the Road, the Means for Construction, and the Value of the Bonds, which will be sent free on application at the Company's offices, or to any of the advertised agents.

FOR SALE.

A RIVER BOTTOM FARM OF 76 ACRES, 19 miles from the city, in Elizabeth township, Allegheny county, Pa., on the Youghiogheny river, one-half mile from Elrod's Station, on the Connellsville railroad; near churches, schools, stores, &c., in the flourishing villages of Boston and Green Oak. The improvements are a two-story brick house of six rooms, hall and cellar, a good frame bank barn with stabling underneath, and other outbuildings; a well of good standing water at the door, and several standing springs of water on the farm, and an orchard of 700 trees of selected fruits of apples, cherries, pears, peaches, quinces and grapes. This property being located near the line of the railroad, within one hour's ride of the city, makes it very desirable for gardening or a dairy farm; it is also a good and beautiful location for country houses near the city, lying immediately on the river, on the opposite side from the railroad. The West Newton Accommodation and other trains on the railroad afford certain and frequent opportunities of daily communication to and from this city. Will be sold as a whole or in lots of one acre or more, to suit purchasers.

Also, A FARM OF 173 ACRES, situated in St. Clair township, Westmoreland county, Pa., near the line of the Pennsylvania Railroad at Houston Station. The improvements are a two-story frame house, with six rooms and good cellar, a frame bank barn 40 by 60 feet, and other outbuildings. There is on the place a young apple and peach orchard; 120 acres cleared land, divided into fields of convenient size, a large portion of which are well set in clover and timothy; the residue of said tract covered with good timber. It is well watered and underlaid with coal and limestone, and is convenient to churches, schools, stores, mills and blacksmith shops. A real good bargain is offered in this excellent farm; and with it will be sold all the personal property on the premises, consisting of horses, cows, stock cattle, hogs and poultry, harness, gears, wagon, plows, farming implements and household and kitchen furniture. Together will be sold very low and on easy terms, to a responsible purchaser.

Also, a desirable and very fertile Tract of Land of 188 ACRES AND 25 PERCHES, in Elizabeth Tp., Allegheny county, Pa., on the line of the Hempfield railroad, and one and one-half miles from the Connellsville railroad at Suter's Station. On this farm are 40 acres of superior white oak timber, which alone is now worth one-half the price asked for the whole tract. The improvements are a log house, frame barn, good fencing, and an apple orchard of good fruit. It is well watered and underlaid with limestone and flag stone of a superior quality, with stone coal for the use of the farm.

Also, The best FARM in Fairfield township, Westmoreland county, Pa., of 250 ACRES, about six miles south of the Pennsylvania Central Railroad at Bolivar Station. The improvements are two large hewed log dwellings; one of the largest and best frame barns in the township; two apple orchards, in good bearing condition; corn crib, wagonshed and other outbuildings. The whole farm is under a high state of cultivation; fencing all in first rate order, and the land of the best quality of limestone soil, about 200 acres of which is cleared and the residue of the tract in good timber, such as white oak, rock oak, hickory, walnut and beech. This property will be sold very cheap and on good terms, as the owner wishes to engage in other business. For particulars enquire of FINANCE AND TRADE.

OFFICE OF THE PITTSBURGH GAZETTE, TUESDAY, May 19, 1868.

The feeling in the gold market was less bearish to-day, and the premium advanced from 139¼ to 139⅝, with some inquiry for cash gold, principally for legitimate business requirements. The acquittal of the President of the United States on the eleventh article of impeachment has had a favorable impression on the market in Europe, but it is believed that this state of feeling is only temporary. The test for the credit of the United States will only be the mode of dealing with our financial question, which is expected to be solved immediately immediately after the Chicago Convention. Any increase of either national or greenback currency must be injurious to the national credit, and bring ruin to every commercial or financial interests. A timely contraction of the currency will shorten the distance to resumption of specie payments, whilst on the other hand, any further depreciation of the currency by new issues of the same will indefinitely postpone it, and make foreign countries rich at the expense of our people.

Government securities advanced to-day from ⅜ to ½ per cent., in consequence of the heavy disbursements for compound interest notes; besides the Treasury is pursuing the same old course again, aiding the people by free disbursements when money is not required, thereby leading on to speculations in stocks and contracting, when money in the open market is already scarce. It is in fact the Treasury that has the fullest control of the market, not only of its own issues, but upon the entire business community of the country, so long as the only means of giving flexibility to the currency of the country is to be looked for in the lowering and rising of the rate of interest.

In the stock market business is dull, and an apathy to buy stocks exists everywhere, and is not confined to the regular gamblers of Wall street.

Money is easier, business improving and the flow of currency is towards the seaboard cities.

Closing quotations as received by Ph. R. Mertz, were as follows:

Gold, 139¼; 1881 bonds, 114½; 1862 5-20s, 109¾; 1864 do, 107¾; 1865 do, 107¾; Consols, 109¾; 10-40s, 103¼; 7-30s, 107¾.

Railroads—Cleveland & Pittsburgh, 84½; Fort Wayne, 107¼; North Western, common 67; North Western—preferred, 77½; New York Central, 128¾; Erie, 69¼; Old Southern, 86¼; Ohio & Mississippi, 29½; Merchants Union Express, 28¾; Western Union Telegraph, 38¾. Mining Shares—Corydon, 25; Quartz Hill, 95; Quicksilver, 29¼.

—Says the New York Tribune of Monday: Money is abundant at 5 to 6 per cent. the latter upon ordinary collaterals. Commercial paper continues scarce and wanted at low rates. The banks are liberal to their dealers, anything rejected by them sells on the street at quite high interest. The failure of "impeachment" puts an end to the hope of more currency, under a new Secretary of the Treasury, and depresses a class of speculators who have lookod to this alone as the means of stimulating an advance in prices. A report is afloat that a new Secretary of the Treasury may be had without the removal of the President, and that Mr. Hooper, of Boston, is the coming man. Should this rumor have substantial foundation, all hopes of more currency may be abandoned, and the sooner the better. The suggested Secretary has no inclination for more bank currency or plain legal tenders, but holds the opinion that the sooner the Government reduces its promises in gold the better—an opinion in which he has the support of all solvent people of all prudent trades. There is no reason whatever for any more currency, and the country at large will be a great gainer by obtaining a Secretary who holds this view, and who has the courage to steadily act upon his opinion.

—Closing quotations received by James T. Brady & Co.:

Gold, 139⅜; U. S. 6's, 1881's, 114½; 5-20's, 1862, 109⅜; 5-20's, 1864, 107⅝; 5-20's, 1865, 107¾; 10-40's, 103⅜; 5-20's, January and July, '65, 109½; 5-20's, January and July, '67, 110; June 7-30's, 107⅝; July 7-30's, 107⅝; May Comp., 1865, 119-40.

[By Telegraph to Pittsburgh Gazette.]

CHICAGO, May 19.—Beef cattle dull $7,75 for fair to good, butchers; steers $8,50a9,12½; good extra choice live hogs nominal, at 25a 50c lower, sales at $8a8,50 for common to light; $8,75a9,25 for fair and good grades.

New York Dry Goods Market.

[By Telegraph to the Pittsburgh Gazette.]

NEW YORK, May 19.—The weather continues gloomy and business dull and depressed. Prices in the meantime are without quotable change except Arnold's prints, which are reduced to 10½c for the least desirable styles.

PITTSBURGH MARKETS.

OFFICE OF THE PITTSBURGH GAZETTE, TUSDAY, May 19, 1868.

The general markets are quiet and devoid of any new characteristics worthy of notice. The weather has cleared up and is all that possibly be desired for the growing crops, and it is generally conceded that the prospects for an abundant harvest were never better. And this is what the country needs more than anything else; with good crops we may expect good times, and we have reason to be thankful that the prospects are so bright.

APPLES—Firm and scarce, and with a steady demand, prices are well sustained, ranging from $6 to $7 per bbl.

APPLE BUTTER—We continue to quote at 80c to $1 per gallon, as to quality.

ASHES—Quiet but steady at 4½ to 5 for common and refined Soda Ash, and 11c for Pearls.

GRAIN—Winter Wheat is scarce and in good milling demand at $2,70 for prime Red. Corn is in good supply and unsettled; we have sales of 700 bush prime yellow reported at $1,10; mixed and White may be quoted at $1 to $1,05. Oats firm with sales at 80 to 82c on wharf, and 84 to 85c in store. Rye is still quoted at $1,95 to $2. No Barley in market.

BUTTER—Holds up remarkably well, notwithstanding pasture could not be better; we still quote prime Roll at 33 to 35c, and print at 37 to 38c.

EGGS—Were in better supply to-day, and did not sell as readily as on Monday, though 20c is still regarded as the ruling price.

HAY—Weighmaster McNulty, at the Allegheny Diamond Scales, reports sales of 33 loads of Hay at $22 to $30; and 4 loads straw at $15 to $18.

SEEDS—Flaxseed is in demand and very limited supply; we can report small sales at $2,50 to $2,55. No demand whatever for Clover or Timothy Seeds.

SALT—Sales of Allegheny River brands to the trade at $1,75 to $1,80, and $2 for small lots in store.

MILL FEED—Dull but unchanged; sales on wharf at $1,65 to $1,70 for Bran, and $2,15 to $2,20 for Middlings.

PROVISIONS—Bacon is unchanged at 14½c for Shoulders; 16½c for Ribbed, and 18½c for Clear Sides; 19½c for Plain Sugar Cured Hams; and 20½ to 21c for Canvassed do. Lard, 19½c. Mess Pork, $29. Dried Beef, 22c for Plain, and 23c for Canvassed.

LARD OIL—Unchanged at $1,25 for No. 2, and $1,50 for No. 1.

DRIED FRUIT—Firm but unchanged; sales of Peaches at 12 to 14c; and Apples at 7 to 7½c.

FLOUR—The market is quiet and prices are unchanged. We continue to quote at $11 to $11,75 for Spring Wheat; $12 to $13 for Winter Wheat: and $14 to $16 for fancy brands. Rye Flour is unchanged at $10 to $10,25.

PITTSBURGH PETROLEUM MARKET.

OFFICE OF THE PITTSBURGH GAZETTE, TUESDAY, May 19, 1868.

CRUDE—The Crude market was again very dull to-day, but two sales reported, 1,300 and 1,800, both for immedtate delivery and both at 11c. In view of the fact that the excitement in regard to the expected "corner" has pretty well subsided, buyers are not as plenty as they were a few days since, but there is not much oil offering, and, as a consequence, prices are unchanged. It was hinted in certain quarters that spot oil could be had at 10¾c, if direct offers were made, but we have reason to doubt this, from the fact that there is scarcely any spot oil in market, and what little there is is held firmly at 11c. Oil City telegrams report the market dull at $4 to $4,10. Receipts continue light.

REFINED—The market for bonded oil was exceedingly dull and neglected to-day, and the indications at present are not very encouraging for those engaged in the movement to establish a "corner" on the 22d. It looks now as if instead of being able to make a "corner," they would be "cornered" themselves, and if this should be the result, the movement will not be a very profitable or pleasant one to those interested in it. Our refiners, with but very few exceptions, if any, will be able to come up to the scratch, and having fulfilled their part of the programme, it will remain with the other side to come down with the "stamps" which we hope they will be able to do. Prices continue weak and drooping; all May, buyer's option, is offering at 30c; June cannot be quoted above 29½c, and May, June and July together, was offered freely at 30c. As we stated yesterday, it is likely that there will not be much done until after the 22d, as operators, generally, prefer to hold off and await the issue.

ARRIVALS—The arrivals of oil by river and rail reported to-day were as follows:

Clark & Sumner.. 400 | Fisher & Bro...8000
C. C. Burke..... 240 | Weisengerger.. 350

Total.....8970

Cincinnati Market.

[By Telegraph to the Pittsburgh Gazette.]

CINCINNATI, May 19.—Flour and Wheat unchanged and quiet. Corn scarce and advanced to 97a98c for ear or shelled. Oats steady at 80c for No. 1. Rye in demand at $2,05 for best grade. Cotton dull and nominal at 30c for middling. Tobacco in good demand; sales 239 hhds.; lugs, $5,00a9,90, and leaf, $10,00a31,50; receipts for the week, 1,880 hhds. and 290 boxes and bales, and 500 boxes manufactured. Provisions firmer and more active. Mess Pork wanted at $28,25, but held at $28,50. Bulk Meats sold at 12¾c for shoulders; sides held at 14¾a15c. Bacon firm; 13¾c for shoulders; 16¾c for clear rib, and 17¼c for clear, but all are held ¼c higher. Lard held at 18¾c and offered sparingly. Butter dull at 29a 35c for fresh. Eggs 18c, and firm. Groceries unchanged; there is a good demand for Sugar. Gold, 139¼ buying; demand good.

Chicago Market.

[By Telegraph to the Pittsburgh Gazette.]

CHICAGO, May 19.—Flour in fair request at $9a11 for spring extras. Wheat in good demand and 1½a2c lower; sales at $2,08a 2,09 for No. 1, and $1,96a1,98 for No. 2, closing at $1,97a1,97½ for No. 2. Corn in fair request; sales No. 1 at 90¼a91¼c; No. 2 at 89a90c; new at 89a89½c, and rejected at 88c in store, closing at 90¼a90¾c for No. 1. Oats active and easier; sales at 70a71c, closing at 70a70¼c. Rye dull and steady; sales No. 1 at $1,83a1,85. Barley dull; sample lots sold at $2,40a2,45 on track. Provisions more active. Mess pork; sales at $28; for prime mess $24,75. Sweet pickled hams 16½c. Lard 18c. Freights are a shade lower, 4¾a5c for wheat to Buffalo. What Shall the Children Do Next?

A favorite amusement with my children is to say, "Guess what I see in this room," beginning with giving the initial letter of something in the room; each child is allowed to guess in rotation till one is successful, when that child has the privilege of giving out the next thing to be guessed.

This game will commend itself to mothers who are very busy, as it does not in the least interfere with their work, even if they participate, as I often do, in the game.

My children have been interested in it for hours together, often puzzling their elders, and contributing greatly to the amusement of us all.

I remember an instance in which our little seven years' old daughter gave out G. S.

Her comrades all tried it many times in despair; came to mamma; even she could find nothing in the room answering to the initials; grandma and great-grandma tried in vain.

Our little puzzler was in ecstacies, and all the others much chagrined, and obliged to confess themselves unable to solve the question.

Grease spot it proved to be; our little girl had discovered a small one on the carpet.

When they tire of this, I say, "My ship is coming in loaded with ——," naming some article beginning with A.

They go on, each naming in turn something beginning with that letter, till they can think of no more; then they take B, and so on through the alphabet.

Mamma's dignity will not be at all compromised by taking part in these simple amusements, and the little ones will enjoy them much better than if playing by themselves.

They have also several sets of the alphabet, cut singly. One child selects the letters necessary to spell any word which she chooses, without naming it, and, after mixing them together, requires another to place them in proper order to spell the word.

These games are, of course, adapted only to those who know something of spelling, but will tend to improve them in that art, and they possess the desirable qualifications of amusing without noise or trouble, and make no litter.—Little Corporal.

Grant on Methodism.

The Philadelphia correspondent of the Cincinnati Times writes, truly or otherwise:

Grant, Grow and Curtin occupied the General's pew in our fashionable uptown Methodist Church last Sunday to the perfect astonishment of everybody. For a short while the distinguished party sat incognitio, but gradually the name of Grant was whispered around, and finally first one and then another of the "aujince" arose and took a good rear, or profile view of the "little man of destiny." When the salvers were passed round for the collection, the almoner walked quickly by Hiram's private pew without even the usual sigh and sanctimonious pause, but Grant was not to be passed here any more than "on the road."

He quickly "made his feet," and extending his hand over the elegant salver, paid his entrance fee and rent of pew by dropping a greenback in the plate. The deacon bowed his thanks, and as each moved up to the altar with his collection, he winked and blinked, nodded, and made other significant but utterly unintelligible signs to the minister and two of the elders in the pulpit. It was all to no purpose. The Reverend gentleman preached as he had first intended, upon the subject of the need of a more general charity among the people in behalf of the great work of the Church.

"Why do you like the Methodists, General?" finally asked Curtin.

"Because their religion is one of hard knocks. They take hold of a man and never let him drop until they have either converted him, and scare him so he will say his prayers some time in his life, and thus be saved," said Grant with a smile. "Then, too, it is an American religion. We Methodists are entirely Democratic, yet no church appreciates the value of union, federalization or centralization in government more than the Methodists. I wish that our National Government had the liberty and the strength that it ought to have from a proper exercise of these principles."

Grow and Curtin were both too much struck with these remarks to continue the conversation, and so the matter dropped.

The Removal of the Remains of Stephen A. Douglas.

The Executive Committee of the Douglas Monument Association has decided to remove the remains of the late Senator Douglas from the ground where they have reposed since 1861, to the mausoleum or to a tomb, on the 3d day of June next, the anniversary of his death.

The metallic casket containing his body will be placed in a white marble sarcophagus, which will stand in the centre of the chamber of the mausoleum, visible to the spectator through the grated doorway. The transfer of the remains will be made by the Trustees of the Monumeht Association. The public are invited to attend on the occasion, and will be duly informed through the papers at an early day, of the arrangements proposed by the Committee.

In this connection we may state that, with the completion of the tomb, which forms the base of the proposed monument, the funds of the Monument Association are exhausted. The sum of $50,000 additional will be required to complete the monument according to the original plan, including the column of white marble some forty-two feet in height. But this may be dispensed with, and still an elegant and appropriate monument secured, by completing the pedestal after Mr. Volk's design, placing the four symbolic marble figures in the position intended for them, and the statue of Douglas himself on a slightly elevated pedestal in the centre. We trust the Association may, at no distant day, be enabled to raise an amount sufficiant to erect a monument to our illustrious Senator that shall be worthy his own fame and the State he represented. —Chicago Journal.

The Colored Democracy.

Negro suffrage appears in a less disagreeable light in Georgia, and Louisiana, since the discovery of "Conservative" colored voters in those States. A Baton Rouge paper says: "A Democratic colored ball was given on Saturday night, and was crowded by the newly enfranchised. It was given in celebration of the Democratic triumph over the carpet baggers in East Baton Rouge, and will be followed up, it is reported, by a grand torch light procession of colored Democrats, speaking by colored orators, and another ball. The colored Democrats are loud in their triumph over the Radicals, and claim that they can now carry a majority of the registered black vote in the parish. The colored Democrats are preparing for the Presidential election, at which time they will be ready to maintain the position of East Baton Rouge as the banner parish."

MR. SEWARD has requested Mr. Lawrence, the "chivalrous" Minister to Costa Rica, who participated in a sham duel near Washington, lately, to resign his post and come home. He has also requested the Prussian Government to recall its representative, engaged in the same affair.

The Manufacture of Perfumes.

Some of the more delicate perfumes are entirely guiltless of ever having had their homes in flowers; indeed they are made by chemical artifice, concocted, in short, from oils and æthers, many of them of a most disgusting kind, the by-products and refuse of other matters. Prof. Lyon Playfair, in a lecture delierved in 1852, referring to the Exhibition of the previous year, says:—

"Commercial enterprise has availed herself of this fact, and sent to the Exhibition, in the forms of essences, perfumes thus prepared. Singularly enough, they are generally derived from substances of intensely disgusting odor. A peculiarly fetid oil, termed "fusel" oil, is formed in making brandy and whiskey. This fusel oil, distilled with sulphuric acid and acetate of potash, gives the oil of pears. The oil of apples is made from the same fusel oil by distillation with sulphuric acid and bichromate of potash. The oil of pine-apples is obtained from a product of the action of putrid cheese on sugar, or by making a soap with butter and distilling it with alcohol and sulphuric acid, and is now largely employed in England in the preparation of pine-apple ale; oil of grapes, and oil of cognac, used to impart the flavor of French cognac to British brandy, are little else than "fusel" oil.

"The artificial oil of bitter almonds, now so largely employed in perfuming soap and flavoring confectionary, is prepared by the action of nitric acid on the fetid oils of gastar. Many a fair forehead is damped with the oil de millefleurs, without knowing that its essential ingredient is derived from the drainage of the cowhouse! The wintergreen oil imported from New Jersey, being produced from a plant indigenous there, is artificially made from willows, and a body procured from a distillation of wood. All these are a direct modern appliance of science to an industrial purpose, and imply an acquaintance with the highest investigations of organic chemistry. Let us recollect that the oil of lemon, turpentine, oil of juniper, oil of roses, oil of copaiba, oil of rosemary, and many other oils, are identical in composition, and it is not difficult to conceive that perfumery may derive still further aid from chemistry."

Our Political Museum.

I saw, on Delaware avenue, the other day, a carriage leisurely driven up past the Club House, and out of it descended one of the handsomest men I had seen for a long time. He waved his hand to a pleasant looking lady within, and she continued up to the avenue, while he, at a gentleman's pace, walked down it. He was Millard Fillmore; the lady was his wife. For a politically-dead man, he was a fine looking corpse. His hair was equally, smoothly white and perfect, and its contrast was pale as snow to the clearness of his eyes and complexion. He had the robustness of a politician, all the distinguished public servant's duplexity of throat, a neck and shoulders like a champagne bottle, and that benignity of expression which seems compounded of a lawyer's shrewdness and a retired and satisfied statesmanship. He looked like a cask of brown sherry, quietly ripening, which the country tasted and put away for the next generation. His height and his courtly corpulence, and the way he put out his feet, reminded me of Louis Phillippe after his abdication, conscious that he had been a king, and that everybody was contented to let him discrown. Fine looking mediocrity that he was, I was glad to see this honored home-guard well married, well pleased, his appetite still good for dinner, and the memory of himself for desert.—Letter from Buffalo.

SECURITY AND COMFORT FOR THE TRAVELING COMMUNITY.

J. B. HARRIS' SAFETY FIRE JACKET,

Car Heater and Moderator,

For SMOKE AND HOT AIR FLUES, dispensing with the use of Stoves and Fires in or about the Passenger or Baggage Cars, with the attachment to graduate the heat to any temperature that may be desired without the possibility of firing the car or cars to which the Jacket may be attached.

Having obtained of the United States Letters Patent for a Safety Jacket which is warranted to resist the most intense heat that may be adjpted to it in the position and purpose for which it is intended. It is a sure protection from accidents by fire, originating from defective flues, or where iron pipes are used as conductors for smoke or heat. It is applicable to all piping that may become overheated, and is warranted to give perfect satisfaction where wood or other combustible material may be placed in close proximity thereto. I am now ready to apply my invention to stores, dwellings, facteries, ships, steamboats, railroad cars, &c., wherever pipes as conductors are made dangerous by being overheated and security desired. I will sell, on applications, rights to manufacture or to use the above invention; also, territorial rights, to such as may wish to engage in selling privileges, either by State or county.

Allegheny Temperance League—Regular Semi-Monthly Meeting—Resolutions Relative to the Death of Rev. Lucas.

A regular semi-monthly meeting of the Allegheny Temperance League was held Tuesday evening, May 19th, in the Second United Presbyterian Church, Allegheny, Dr. H. Campbell, Vice President, in the chair.

The exercises were opened with prayer by the Chairman, after which the minutes of the previous meeting were read and approved.

The death of Rev. V. Lucas, late a Vice President of the League, was announced, and, on motion of Prof. L. H. Eaton, Rev. Dr. Clark was appointed to prepare resolutions relative to his death.

Dr. Clark being the speaker for the evening, addressed the League. His subject was: "Does the principle of legal prohibition unjustly interfere with any of the proper rights or liberties of society?"

At the close of the address, which was one of Dr. Clark's ablest efforts, the time of holding the anniversary meeting was discussed and announced for the 9th of June.

The following Committees were appointed:

W. G. Warner, G. Bradley and T. C. Davis were appointed a Committee to invite all Temperance organizations to meet with the League at its annual meeting.

Prof. L. H. Eaton, D. Blair and B. Eckert constitute the Committee to nominate officers for the ensuing year.

The following preamble and resolutions relative to the death of Rev. Lucas were read and adopted:

Whereas, Rev. V. Lucas, a Vice President of this League, and an earnest friend of moral reform, has been suddenly stricken down by the hand of death, therefore

Resolved, That in his death the church has lost an able and efficient pastor, society a pure and useful member, and the cause of temperance an eloquent and fearless advocate.

Resolved, That the sympathies of this League be hereby tendered to the sorrowing family, so suddenly and unexpectedly bereaved of its head.

Resolved, That the above be incorporated in the minutes of this League and published with its proceedings.

After benediction by Rev. J. B. Clark, the meeting adjourned.

Independent Order of Odd FeBows—Grand Lodge of Pennsylvania—Annual Session.

The Grand Lodge of the Independent Order of Odd Fellows, of Pennsylvania, convened in Lafayette Hall, Wood street, yesterday morning, at nine o'clock. The following Grand Officers were present: Richard Watson, M. W. G. Master; Peter B. Long, R. W. Deputy G. Master; Samuel F. Gwinner, R. W. G. Warden; Wm. Curtis, R. W. G Secretary; M. Richard Muckle, R. W. Grand Treasurer.

The Grand Lodge was opened in usual form by the Right Worthy Deputy Grand Master, after prayer.

The remainder of the morning session was occupied in hearing the report of the Committee on Credentials.

AFTERNOON SESSION.

The Lodge was opened in the usual form, after which the presiding officer announced the result of the election for Grand Officers as follows:

M. W. G. M.—Peter B. Long, No. 353 Philadelphia.

R. W. D. G. M.—Samuel F. Gromier, 127 Bucks county.

R. W. G. Warden—John B. Springer, 127 Philadelphia.

R. W. S. Sec'y.—Wm. Curtis, 28 Philadelphia.

R. W. G. Mast.—M. Richards Muckle, 46 Philadelphia.

R. W. G. Rep. to G. L. of U. S.—Robt. A. Lamberton, 106 Harrisburg.

Our very brief report of the proceedings, we regret to say, is the result of a misunderstanding. The session being secret, of course our reporter could not be admitted. He applied to a member of the Grand Lodge for a report of the proceedings, and was informed that it would be furnished to one of the morning papers, with instructions to furnish "proofs" to the others, but on applying for the same, were refused.

Commendable.

Persons who attend the market have doubtless observed a marked change in the manner of conducting the market within the past few months. The market house is kept in better order than ever before, and the filthy, we might say disgusting, practice into which the butchers had fallen of bringing with them to the market house the hides of slaughtered animals, which some times remained there throughout the day has been stopped. This was one of the greatest annoyances to which persons attending market were subjected, as the stench of the hides, at no time agreeable, became almost unbearable in warm weather. Officer Rigby and Dressler, market constables, have done much to promote the new order of things as established at the market house, and deserve credit for it.

Resigned.

Officer James Scott, one of the most efficient policemen in the city, resigned his position on the force yesterday, and Lieut. A. J. Moon has taken his place in the office. Mr. Scott, as stated, was one of the best officers in the city. He possessed caution and discretion, faculties highly essential in detectives, to a very great degree. He served in the capacity of Chief of Police during the administration of Mayor McCarthy, and rendered very general satisfaction to the citizens as well as to the authorities. We regret to loose the services of so valuable an officer, but wish him success in whatever business he may embark. His successor, Mr. Moon, was on the day force during the last administration, and is an excellent officer.

Violating an Ordinance.

John McFaden, Street Commissioner of the Second District, made information before the Mayor yesterday, charging Messrs. Bell & Ware, contractors, with violating a city ordinance. There is an ordinance requiring contractors, in constructiug a vault under the pavement, to build a bridge four feet in height over the excavation, the penalty for the violation of which is five dollars per day during the time the bridge is wanting. He alleged that the parties mentioned had, for five days past, been constructing a vault under the pavement on Tunnel street, below Wylie, and had failed to erect the required bridge. A hearing was had, and the defendants were fined twenty-five dollars and costs.

A Night Ferry Boat.

Mr. Robinson, the energetic Superintendent of the Jones Ferry Company, informs us that on and after Monday next a boat will be run at night, making half hourly trips from seven o'clock in the evening until seven in the morning. In view of the large and rapidly increasing traffic and travel from the South Side, from Temperanceville, West Pittsburgh and adjacent outlying districts, this new arrangement will prove of substantial benefit, affording convenient accommodation for night travel by way of the ferry, and thus supplying a want long felt. We trust the Company may reap proportionate advantage as a reward for their enterprise.

Improvements on Fourth Street.—During the present season there will be ten new buildings erected on Fourth street, between Smithfield and Market streets.

THE COURTS.

United States District Court—Judge McCandless.

The case of Richard Wilson and C. C. Johnson, indicted for conspiracy to defraud the United States, was submitted to the jury, under the charge of the Court, about half past ten o'clock. About one o'clock the jury returned and announced that they had agreed upon a verdict of not guilty. The defendants were accordingly discharged by proclamation.

Jacob Snyder and V. Hinkle were placed on trial on two indictments, charging them with distilling without payment of the special revenue tax, without giving bond, setting up a still without permit, and distilling without a bonded warehouse. Hinkle plead guilty and Snyder was placed on trial. The case has not yet been concluded.

Common Pleas—Judge Mellon.

Peter Messner vs. Frederick Kauff. Action on book account. Jury out.

Leopold Heilbruner vs. Louis Miller. Similar action. Verdict for plaintiff for $612.56.

Shephard's Iron City Cracker Bakery and Confectionery.

Prominent among the pioneer establishments which date their origin away back to the edge of a preceding generation, and whose prosperity and popularity has been steadily increasing throughout the many changing years which they have passed, stands the Iron City Steam Bakery and Confectionery, No. 317 Liberty street. The proprietor, Mr. John Shephard, has long occupied high place in the ranks of our active, careful and enterprising business citizens. He has ever so managed his establishment as to win for it a full share of public patronage, and year by year increasing his facilities and extending his trade, he finds himself to-day at the head of one of the largest as well as most prosperous establishments of the character in the western section of our State The main building of the firm is large and commodious and is in use from the commodious cellar up to the attic or fourth floor. Attached to it are ovens of mammoth proportions for fancy hard cracker and bread baking, and all the necessary mechanical arrangements for the manufacture of sweet meats of all tempting descriptions. The stock on hand of the latter, together with a fresh importation of foreign fruits, nuts, &c., &c., is very large, and dealers who buy to sell again and retail patrons can nowhere else obtain better variety or selection. Owing to the rapid growth of the cracker trade of this house, Mr. Shephard has been compelled to establish a branch bakery on the corner of Plumb and Cherry Alley. This building has been thoroughly refitted and supplied with ample machinery for turning out crackers of the best quality by the million. It is in charge of Mr. James Creighton, who manages all the various departments, a position for which he is eminently qualified, having had large experience. Mr. Theodore Shephard will be found constantly in attendance at the main house on Liberty street, and having been almost raised to the business, proves a valuable auxiliary to the firm. The manufacture of water, butter, sugar, soda, Boston, wine, oyster, pic nic, Graham, novelty, almond and cream crackers is conducted with much care, while steamboat biscuit, anti-dyspeptic bread, ginger snaps and cracker meal are made specialties. For any and everything in the line of crackers, confectionery and bread we cannot too earnestly commend this old and sterling house.

Sudden Death.

Rev. Valentine Lucas, pastor of the First Methodist Church, of Allegheny, died suddenly between three and four o'clock yesterday morning, at the parsonage, on Union avenue. He retired to bed about twelve o'clock Monday night in apparently excellent health. Shortly after three o'clock next morning his wife was awakened by hearing a groan, and on looking to ascertain the cause, found her husband lying on the floor beside the bed. She immediately lighted the gas, and called for assistance, but in a moment or two death intervened. Dr. Cooper was summoned, and responded promptly, but could render no service. The physician gave it as his opinion that death resulted from apoplexy.

The deceased was a prominent Methodist minister, and has for years past had the pastoral charge of the First Methodist (formerly Methodist Protestant) Church in Allegheny. He had been in the ministry a number of years, and during his connection with the Pittsburgh Conference, has served as President, and has held other important positions.

A Regular Customer.

Bridget McKinnis has become a regular customer at the tombs. Scarcely a week passes that Bridget's name does not appear on the books at the watch house, invariably followed by the words "drunk and disorderly." She is such a hardened old sinner that she has become constitutionally disorderly and never draws a sober breath if it is possible for her to get liquor. Time after time has she been committed to jail for ten, twenty and thirty days, and if discharged from prison in the morning, after having served a term of thirty days, she is almost sure to go to the lock-up the following night. She was released from jail yesterday and was again arrested for drunkness last night. She will probably get thirty days more at the hearing this morning.

An Officer in Trouble.

George A. Newman, constable of Lower St. Clair township, has got into a difficulty, in extricating himself from which he may have some trouble. John Hamilton made information before Justice Snyder yesterday, charging Newman with receiving illegal fees. It appears that the constable made information, some time since, against a German woman for selling liquor on Sunday, which he afterwards withdrew, as the prosecutor alleges, upon the receipt of five dollars from the woman. He was arrested and after a hearing held to bail for his appearance at Court, in default of which he was committed to jail.

Reformed Presbyterian General Synod.—The General Synod of the Reformed Presbyterian Church of North America will meet this evening in the church of which Rev. Dr. John Douglas is pastor, at half-past seven o'clock. The retiring Moderator, Rev. W. S. Bratton, will deliver the opening sermon. The Committee of Arrangements, which consists of Messrs. R. C. Miller, Josiah Stevenson and F. R. McCutcheon will be present at the Church this afternoon and evening, for the purpose of directing delegates to their place of stopping.

Too Presumptuous.—John Gray, a young man residing in the Fourth ward, Allegheny, it is alleged, met Annie alias "Dot" Campbell on Ohio street, a few evenings since, and had the presumption to offer himself as an escort, which she flatly refused to accept. Yesterday morning she made information before Alderman Mullen, charging Gray with having committed a breach of the peace. A warrant was issued for his arrest.

Body Found.—The body of a man was found last evening about eight o'clock in the Monongahela river, between the Birmingham bridge and dam, near the coke ovens. Coroner Clawson was notified by telegraph and will hold an inquest on the body this morning.

At Last.—The work of grading Fifth street, for the Nicolson pavement will be commenced this morning.

Street Crossings.

Crossings are very pleasant things to have; at least they are now when we have so few and pay as much for them as if we had as many as we wanted. Crossings are perhaps like strawberries, we want them when we have not any, and if we had quantities, we might become so used to the luxury as not to care much for it. It is not a good thing to be sated; enough is as good as a feast, and so, probably, too little is better than a surfeit. This, at least, seems to be the idea of our kind and loving fathers Too many crossings would not be good for the city; they would injure trade—particularly the boot-black trade; and then women have no right to wear long trailing dresses, and if they persist in doing so, it is highly proper to have as much mud as possible to injure the dresses, so that they will not be fit to wear again, and thus make the women cease wearing trails and also encourage the dry goods business. Just as few crossings as possible, is the idea. "Few's the word," said Samson Brass, and few it is. If we had more we should probably grumble for still more; as it is, we don't know that such things are necessary. Other towns have good crossings and pavements, but we don't need them; we have so much that is fine and charming in the city that we can dispense with such trifles. Look at the roadway on Second street, below the Birmingham bridge! Look at the City Parks—also on Second street! Look at the highly (very) accessible place where it is proposed to place the Soldiers' Monument! Look at the pure, clean, convenient markets! Taste the water, and see, feel, smell and taste the smoke and soot and dirt! Can anything in any other city equal these? We ask the question, jokingly of course, for we all know that in these respects Pittsburgh stands unequalled, and we almost think unapproachable. But in spite of this, in spite of all these, the City Fathers are going to humor the few grumblers to a certain extent. We are going to have two whole new crossings; both on Fifth street, but very judiciously placed at Smithfield and Market, so far apart that there will be no danger of any one getting from one to the other along Fifth street without getting muddy, so that seeming to yield to the innovating ideas of some persons who are progressive, the guardians of the city stick to their excellent purpose of leaving us as dirty, and muddy, and void of comfort as our fathers and our grandfathers (who were as good as we are) were content to be.

And when these crossings are made, don't, we beg of you—you, who make the crossings—don't make them any different from the usual kind. Take the crossings at Liberty and Market streets. They are models in their way; a few big boulders, and then a hollow, full of water on rainy days, and too large to jump across, a few more boulders, and another hollow. That is the way to do the thing, but they must be very narrow, too narrow for any number of people to cross at once; but in crowded streets it don't matter, for crowds are in a hurry, and then if they wern't made that way they wouldn't match the other crossings in the city, and of course they must all match or it wouldn't do at all.

Real Estate Transfers.

The following deeds were filed of record before H. Snively, Esq., Recorder, May 18th, 1868:

Joseph Laurent, trustee, to Mrs. Mary Smith, April 16, 1868; lots Nos. 182 and 183, in the plan of the "East Liberty Banverein," on Run street, 50 feet front and extending in depth to the town-ship road.....$414

Retirement.

We clip the following from the Presbyterian Banner:

"Hon. Walter Lowrie, for many years Secretary of our Board of Foreign Missions, has at length, on account of his age and feebleness of body, retired from all connection with the duties of the office. Long, faithfully and ably has he served the Church. Probably no other man has a stronger hold upon the affections of the ministry and people. For him prayers will go up, not only from all parts of the country, but from Europe, Asia and Africa. He was born in Butler county, Pennsylvania, became a Senator of the United States, and was afterwards Clerk of the Senate, which office he resigned to accept the service from which he has just retired. Wise in counsel, determined in purpose, and efficient in action, he has administered the affairs of the great trust committed to him so as to win the admiration of all."

Superb Residence and Grounds at Homewood Station at Auction.

There will be sold by auction this day, at four o'clock, by A. Leggate, Auctioneer, at Homewood Station, on the Pennsylvania Railroad, a lot of ground, between two and three acres, finely improved, on which is erected a new and very handsome dwelling house, containing eight rooms, with all modern conveniences and appliances. It is beautifully situated on the Greensburg pike, near the fine residences of Messrs. Fahnestock, Griffith and others, and combines every desirable feature of a country residence near the city. The special attention of those in quest of a first class home is invited to this highly attractive sale. Take train at three o'clock from Union Depot, Liberty street.

A Runaway.—A horse attached to an express wagon yesterday took fright at the corner of Third and Grant streets and becoming unmanageable, ran down Third to Smithfield, and up Smithfield to Fifth, where he was checked by running into an iron wagon. No serious damage was done either to person or property, which may be accounted for by the fact that the driver held the lines and kept the horse partly under control, but was not strong enough to keep him from running.

Barroom Fight.—A disgraceful fight occurred in the Broadway saloon yesterday, between Harry Walker, a bar keeper, and Alonzo Billings, in which it appears Billings was badly used up. He alleges that he was attacted by Walker, without any provocation and that some one else struck him several times while Walker was striking him. He made information before Alderman Strain, charging Walker with assault and battery. A warrant was issued, Walker arrested and held for a hearing.

Improvement.—Street Commissioner Hunter has had a twelve foot sidewalk paved on the north side of Liberty street, from Canal street to the old railroad crossing. This was a much needed improvement, as that side of the street at that point was impassable in wet weather. There should be a good flag crossing across Canal street at its junction with Liberty, which is only needed to complete the line of sidewalks on that side of the street.

Going Up.—A fine building is in course of erection at the corner of Liberty street and Stevenson's alley. The old structure, which has stood there for a number of years, has been removed, and the masons are at work on the new one, which we are informed is to be four stories high, with a pressed brick front.

Amusements.

THE OPERA HOUSE.—"Nobody's daughter," a drama of decided merit when properly put on the stage, was rendered last evening at this shabby genteel house to an exquisitely small audience. So few men and women were present that we congratulated ourself on the kindness of the management in printing on his posters that "this establishment does not advertise in the GAZETTE"—but, while duly appreciating the generosity which prompted the compliment, we feel that it was a waste of printers' ink, as the unoccupied seats and beggarly attendance told that fact most plainly, else the other potent causes are operating to keep amusement lovers from this miscalled temple of the drama. Indeed, we should be very sorry that a stranger should look over the sea of empty chairs gracing the auditorium nightly and be told that "This establishment does advertise in the GAZETTE." For the good of our business, we thank the management for that most important announcement of the season made to the select few who visited the place last night. We may gloss over all the shortcomings of the stock company, the "gags," indecencies, drunkenness, and general faults hitherto found, if the management will consent to keep that announcement on the programme and posters.

We have too much charity in our nature to tell how many persons were actually in attendance, but it will suffice to say that they might be comfortably accommodated in a large sized omnibus. We do not rejoice that the management is so unsuccessful. It is a matter of congratulation, however, that the people are awakening to a full sense of the injustice so long practiced upon them by those who palm off a miserable second class place of light entertainment as a representative first class establishment. The merited rebuke was slow in coming, but with awful force it has arrived and the place totters beneath its weight.

We felt truly sorry for Miss Price. She is rightly regarded as a rising young actress, whose future will, beyond any doubt, be marked with brilliancy and success; but why should she be subjected at this early day in her career as a star to the chilling, fire extinguishing, soul subduing and mortifying ordeal of playing in a large and populous city, before a mere handful of men and women. Her engagement at this decaying establishment will dampen her buoyant spirts, and unless there are those about her who will satisfactorily establish in her mind that her failure to crowd the house, or even to draw a respectable small audience, is not due to any fault of hers, but to the fact that the people are sickened with the House itself, and thoroughly disgusted with the disgraceful scenes, not in any of the published plays, which have, of late, characterized the boards. It is the self respect of the people rather than any failure on the part of Miss Price which tells so fearfully on the Opera House audiences.

PITTSBURGH THEATRE.—There was not a seat unoccupied at the "Old Drury" last night. The performances were good. To-night a rare and varied bill is offered.

BURNELL'S MUSEUM.—Among the new attractions at this place is the man who boasts of a heavy beard seven feet long.

To the Afflicted.

Do not think that you cannot be cured because you have tried other remedies. Remember that many of our remedies are known only to ourselves and are compounded according to our own reasoning and extensive experience with the sick. We use principally vegetable remedies, discarding entirely the use of Calomel or Mercury in any form. We are also opposed to blood-letting in any case.

During the whole course of our study and practice we have paid particular attention to the "old German mode" of detecting diseases of the internal organs by the examination of the Urine, and we feel perfectly satisfied that there is no more certain sign offered in disease than is presented in that secretion.

If you have any Liver, Lung, Kidney, Blood, or Female Disease, send a vial of urine to our office, No. 908 Penn street, Pittsburgh, for examination, and have the necessary medicine sent you.

J. L. MCKEE, M. D.

Mrs. Dr. Lonergan, Physician and Electrician.

Gives special attention to the treatment of Chronic Diseases and the diseases of Women and Children.

Her vegetable pills improve the general condition by giving tone and energy to the digestive organs, and will relieve headache almost immediately. The hundreds who have been cured by her give evidence that her remedies are safe and efficacious, and that her "Electrical treatment" is judiciously employed. Office hours from 9 a. m. to 3 p. m., at her residence, on Neville street, near Denman, Birmingham.

Threatened Him.—T. J. Young made information before Alderman Strain yesterday, against Matthew Lawton, for surety of the peace. He alleges in the information that Lawton threatened to "mash his mouth." The accused was held for a hearing.

Surety of the Peace.—Leopold Vetters made information before Alderman Mullen yesterday against Mathias Seibert for surety of the peace. He alleges that Seibert threatened to burn his house to ashes. A warrant was issued for the arrest of Seibert.

The Dollar Savings Bank.—We learn that the Dollar Savings Bank Company have in contemplation the erection of a magnificent brick building on Fourth street, opposite the Mayor's office on the lot occupied by three one-story houses.

Crossings.—One of the crossings on Smithfield street, at Fifth, was completed yesterday evening, and the work of laying the one on the opposite side of the street was commenced and will be completed this morning.

To Be Completed.—The spire of the Evangelical Lutheran Church, erected last summer, is to be completed. The framework is already up and the work will be continued until the entire church is finished.

Committed.—Ellen Fletcher alias Marshall, charged, on oath of Julia Ann Reed, before Justice Barker, with larceny by bailee, was arrested and committed yesterday. She will have a hearing to-day.

Being Relaid.—The sidewalk on Wood street, from Sixth street to the Third National Bank, on the east side of the street, is being relaid and a new and more substantial curb ts being set.

Dull.—Criminal business with police magistrates is exceedingly dull at present in this city. Is it to be accounted for as the result of a reformation in the morals of our citizens? We hope so.

Lot at Homewood for Sale To-day.—Don't fail to attend the sale at 3½ o'clock to-day, of that beautiful lot of 1¼ acre at Homewood station, advertised by D. Leggate, Auctioneer.

Undergoing Repairs.—The office of the Fire Alarm and Police Telegraph is undergoing repairs. It is being repapered and is to be repainted and thoroughly renovated.

Cheap.—Cucumbers were selling in market yesterday morning at ten cents apiece. The supply was fully equal to the demand at those figures.

At Work.—The "Apostles" were at work on Smithfield street yesterday, and made quite an improvement in the appearance of it.

Ohio Items.

The Portsmouth Tribune says: Gen. John A. Logan has kindly consented to address the soldiers and sailors of this county some time during the month of June. Due notice of the time and place will be given.

The Tuscarawas Advocate says: Mr. Geo. Huber, of Uhrichsville, Ohio, went to his ice house one day last week to get some ice for a customer, and in removing some straw was bitten three times in the forearm by a large black spider, which he afterwards killed. He paid but little attention to the wound and in a few days died very suddenly. He was sick but a few hours, during which time he vomited violently.

The Newark American says: The Committee on Memoirs of the Licking county Pioneer Society are called upon to announce in our paper this week, the death of Mrs. Priest, the oldest member of their Society. Her death occurred in her humble cabin home, on the farm of Hon. Wm. Stanberry, in Madison township, on Saturday night last, where she had been living for nearly twenty years, at the advanced age of more than a hundred years. Mrs. Priest was born in Culpepper county, Virginia, in 1766, where she continued to reside until near the close of the last century, when, with her husband and six children, she came to the Muskingum valley, and settled near the mouth of the Licking. Here she continued for a number of years and then removed to near the mouth of the Wakatomica river, where she continued to live a long time, and finally removed to Fairfield county. Here her husband died, and the family having had much sickness, she decided to remove to Licking county, and with her large family settled on the Rocky Fork, from whence, after a long residence, she removed to the humble cabin in which she breathed her last, and closed her very protracted earthly career. Mrs. Priest was an exceedingly muscular and vigorous woman, and always lived in a very plain and simple manner. As an evidence of her vigor it may be stated that she walked every mile of the way from Culpepper to the Muskingum, a distance of about four hundred miles, and carried an infant child. That infant, now seventy years of age, attended her mother during her illness and was at her burial.

The Ohio State Sabbath School Union will hold its Convention this year at Oberlin, in the First Congregational Church, Wednesday and Thursday, June 3d and 4th.

"They made her a grave too cold and damp
For a soul so honest and true."

If they had been wise, the dire necessity of opening the grave for one so lovely might have been averted. Plantation Bitters, if timely used, are sure to rescue the young and lovely, the middle-aged, and the ailing, from confirmed sickness.

Almost all diseases have their beginning in some slight difficulty of the Stomach, which would eventuate in Dyspepsia, Headache, Liver Complaints, Night Sweats, Consumption, Death. Plantation Bitters will prevent these premonitory symptoms and keep the blood pure and the health good.

While they invigorate the system they enliven the mind.

MAGNOLIA WATER.—A delightful toilet article—superior to Cologne, and at half the price. MWF&F

Chapped Hands, face and all roughness of the skin, certainly cured by using the Juniper Tar Soap, made by Caswell, Hazard & Co., New York. It surpasses all other remedies as it will prevent roughness of the skin if used during cold weather. It is easily applied, avoiding all the trouble of the greasy compounds now in use. It can be used by ladies with the most tender skin, without irritation or pain, making it soft and clear. Sold by the druggists generally wT.

Costiveness.—Persons who suffer from this painful condition of the digestive organs, will experience immediate and permanent relief by making use of Wilson's Pills, a medicine which has been thoroughly tested in this and one hundred diseases of the bowels. Sold by all leading druggists in the United States.

Building Lots and Frame Church at Auction, Sale To-day.—A. Leggate, Auctioneer, will sell at 10 o'clock, the two lots on Beaver street, Allegheny, adjoining the North Avenue Methodist Church. Also, the frame church erected thereon.

The June number of Godey's Lady's Book, as fresh, fragrant and charming as June itself, is received and for sale at Gildenfenney's.

THE famine and pestilence in Algeria has destroyed one hundred thousand Arabs within the last six months. The sufferings of the people are as horrible as those of the inhabitants of the Italian cities in the middle ages, accounts of which have been handed down to us with strict attention to all the minutiæ. The Arabs have been reduced to such straits that they have greedily eaten offal and the putrefying bodies of animals that have died of the plague, which afflicts both man and beast. Two French missionaries have arrived in New York for the purpose of obtaining aid and relief from the citizens of the United States.

THE Macon (Ga.) Telegraph expresses the opinion that the friends of Mr. Pendleton are making a grievous mistake in complicating the Presidential question with what they are pleased to denominate the "financial plan" of their favorite. The battle, it says, will be fought on far greater issues than the mere questions as to how the public debt should be paid, a question on which their own party at the North is divided in interest and opinion. It further says that the Presidential question is becoming one of force, and Hancock is the man for the times.

THE Syracuse Standard tells an odd story about a young steer in that vicinity, which, from eating too much green food, suffered a severe attack of "hoove." Medicine failing to give relief, an incision was made in the side of the animal, and a quill inserted. A lighted candle being accidentally held near, the escaping gas ignited and burned furiously, until, by a lively effort, it was extinguished; and the animal as well as the stable was saved from destruction.

TO SHOW the potency of the whisky ring at Washington, not less than a thousand barrels of whisky, seized as contraband in New York this week, have been ordered to be released and returned to their owners. In Providence, R. I., three hundred and fifty barrels similarly seized, were also released and returned.

Buffalo Market.

FOR SALE.—HOBOKEN.—THE balance of those desirable Lots are now offered at private sale, and any one desirous of fine building sites would do well to make a selection. The village is located on a beautiful and healthy spot, two and a half miles from Sharpsburg, on the Western Pennsylvania Railroad, which runs through it, making it much more valuable and agreeable. Extensive preparations are now making for erecting a number of fine houses, which will prove an ornament to the town. The remainder of these Lots will be sold at very reasonable rates and on terms exceedingly easy. SILL & SHUTTERLY, Real Estate and Insurance Agents, Lawrenceville.
